

REFUGEE ACTION KINGSTON

Annual Report 2024-25

Message from our chair

I opened last year's report with a UNHCR figure on global forced displacement. That number has since risen again, reaching a record 123 million people by the end of 2024 – almost double the population of the United Kingdom. Here at home, the Migration Observatory recorded around 108,000 asylum applications in 2024, the highest level since records began.

These figures reflect the impact of powerful global forces: conflict, political instability, persecution, and climate change. Modern wars – whether transnational or civil – are increasingly protracted, driving long-term displacement and immense human suffering, from loss of life to severe physical and psychological trauma.

Yet this perspective is often missing from public debate in the UK. Immigration and asylum consistently rank among voters' top concerns, but discussion is shaped by the widespread misconception that most migration here is illegal. The unfair criminalisation of people seeking safety makes it easier to overlook their experiences – and the reasons they deserve protection and support.

Refugee Action Kingston's constitution states our purpose clearly: to relieve distress, need, and hardship among refugees and people seeking asylum in the borough. This mission is unequivocal. It reflects our belief that fundamental human rights – to life, liberty and security, to asylum, to freedom from torture and from persecution – must be upheld for all.

This commitment guides everything we do. It shapes the daily work of our staff and informs the decisions of RAK's trustees. Safeguarding, alleviating hardship, managing risk, and fostering equality and inclusion sit at the heart of our priorities, alongside the practical responsibilities of running an effective charity.

As long as conflict, violence, and persecution persist in the world, Refugee Action Kingston will stand firm in the belief that those who seek refuge here must have the opportunity to live with dignity and rebuild their futures.

Message from our CEO

When I joined Refugee Action Kingston as CEO in December 2024, I was immediately struck by the commitment that runs through this organisation – from staff and volunteers to trustees, partners, and the communities we exist to serve.

This has been a year of both challenge and determination. Like many in the sector, we faced a difficult financial climate, yet through careful stewardship we ensured core costs were covered and services continued uninterrupted. This resilience is a testament to the dedication and resourcefulness of the team.

The wider context has not been easy. The riots and protests of summer 2024, and the continuing hostility faced by people seeking asylum, have been sobering reminders of why our work matters. At the same time, they have strengthened our resolve to stand alongside our clients, offering safety, support, and hope in the face of adversity.

This year also marked a significant organisational restructure – designed to strengthen leadership, sharpen our focus, and create a more sustainable model for the future. Central to this was the creation of two new roles: a Head of Advice to oversee specialist casework and legal support, and a Head of Services to lead programme delivery and ensure integration, wellbeing, and community support are impactful. These changes give us the resilience and flexibility needed in a rapidly changing environment.

A continuing challenge is how to tell our story to the wider public. As a charity working with refugees and people seeking asylum, we must balance raising awareness and securing funding with protecting the safety and dignity of staff and clients. This places limits on visibility and can make fundraising and marketing harder. Yet it is also one of our strengths: by putting security and dignity first, we demonstrate integrity and unwavering commitment to those we serve. And when the stories of our community can be safely shared, they are all the more powerful.

Looking forward, I believe we are entering a new chapter. Our mission is as urgent as ever, but so too is our belief that with creativity, collaboration, and the commitment of our supporters, RAK can remain a place of welcome, hope, and opportunity.

Thank you for standing with us during this year of transition. Together, we are building not only stability, but the possibility of greater impact in the years ahead.

Our stories

(All names have been changed)

From despair to stability

Kamal, a young man from West Africa, faced destitution and homelessness. His immigration application had been refused, he was isolated and depressed, and he spoke little English.

RAK moved quickly, working with Migrant Help to secure emergency accommodation. We then identified grounds for a fresh claim for status and oversaw every detail of his new application. Once he had secured the right to remain, we guided him through the benefits system. He joined one of our English language classes and began attending our job hub.

His support worker says that Kamal “is now a different person”. By addressing immigration, housing, finances, mental health and integration together, RAK helped him to move from despair to stability. He can now look towards building a future of hope in the UK.

Surviving and thriving

The range of services RAK offers means we handle individual cases in a unique, coordinated way. When Malik arrived in the UK, he had no status, no English, no friends. And he was almost overwhelmed by the distress of separation from his wife and two children in Iran.

As well as guiding him through the asylum process, RAK provided day-to-day support, securing a home and working towards a reunion. When visas were eventually granted and the family arrived here, their joy was immeasurable.

RAK’s focus then turned to integration: the children were enrolled at school and offered language support, while the parents were helped through the benefits system to achieve a degree of financial stability. Our joined-up approach means that today Malik and his family are not just surviving – they are beginning to thrive.

Back to school

Fatima and her family arrived in Kingston over the summer. It meant her school application was delayed, and she was turned down by schools in Kingston and a neighbouring borough. When she came to us, she was lonely and despondent about her lack of school.

RAK’s Bright Futures team, which supports young people in education, quickly found Fatima a club where she could make friends, play sport (she is a keen badminton player), and practice English ahead of the new school year. We ensured she had resources to prepare for the curriculum, and arranged a volunteer science tutor.

We also liaised with the local authority and helped her secure a place at her first-choice school. Bright Futures supported her free school meals application and offered help with uniforms. Fatima is now thriving, both at school and her local badminton club.

Learning curve

When it comes to children and young people, ensuring educational access is a priority for RAK. Maria registered with us in August 2024, a quiet nine-year-old who spoke only Spanish. Over the summer she attended our Supplementary School sessions while we helped to secure her place at a Kingston school.

As the term began and Maria settled into her new class, RAK ensured her parents understood all school communications so their daughter was not excluded. Maria also attended our After-School Club, and we provided Spanish books so she could keep reading in her first language.

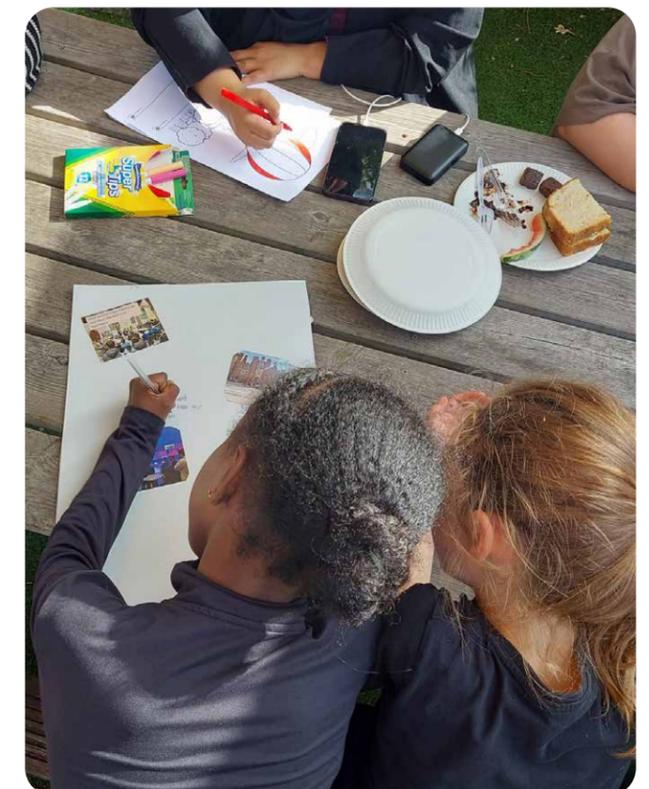

Maria blossomed during her first eight months with RAK. Her English improved, and she even started translating for her parents! When the family relocated to south west England, RAK made school applications and liaised with her new school to ensure a smooth transition.

Moving forward

All of our clients have faced challenges and setbacks. One of RAK’s purposes is to support them once they are in this country so that they can move forward and build new, fulfilling lives here.

Abdul, from north eastern Africa, had been waiting for more than a year for a decision on his asylum application. We supported him with career advice, English lessons, and employability training. His confidence grew – and a job offer followed. But a Home Office error then blocked him from taking the role.

RAK had to move fast. We engaged an immigration solicitor, rallied support from local MPs, and persuaded the employer to hold the job. 10 days later the error was overturned, and Abdul is now flourishing in his new role. Our advocacy and support turned uncertainty and rejection into opportunity.

Objectives

The objectives of the CIO are the relief of need, hardship or distress and the advancement of education and training of the Beneficiaries so as to assist in their integration into the community by:

- a. the provision of assistance and advice to enable them to access services and to deal with organisations and authorities; and
- b. by such other support as the charity trustees may from time to time see fit.

“Beneficiaries” means refugees and asylum seekers and their dependants (and, if resolved by a 75% majority of the members of the CIO, vulnerable migrants and their dependants) who reside, work or study within the Royal Borough of Kingston Upon Thames and such other boroughs as the charity trustees may from time to time see fit.

The CIO may continue to provide support and services to a Beneficiary who lived but ceases to live, work or study within the borough referred to.

Oversight

The Board delegates responsibility for operational management to the Chief Executive Officer. In 2025 the senior management team was reorganized and formalised, programme decision making has been consolidated under project management structures, and new lines of accountability have been agreed.

Public benefit

RAK provides public benefit through the relief of poverty among its clients and providing education and training to help them achieve integration into our community and become socially and economically independent members of the community. As such the Trustees consider that they have complied with their duty to have due regard to the guidance on public benefit published by the Charity Commission and have complied with their duties under Section 17 of the Charities Act 2011.

Financial review

The financial results for the year are as shown in the financial section of this report and cover accounting period of 12 months from 1 April 2024 to 31 March 2025. The carry-forward funds as at 31 March 2024 amounted to £145,518 all of which was unrestricted.

We continue to operate in an uncertain political climate. Changes in government policy alter the needs of our clients and also sources and amounts of our grants. We monitor, evaluate and adapt services to respond to changing demands. Our staff keep up to date with changes in legislation and national or local policy.

A key aim of the Board is to ensure RAK holds adequate reserves for working capital purposes and has sufficient funds to meet contractual liabilities and winding down costs, if the organisation were to close. This includes redundancy pay, amounts due to creditors and commitments under contracts. RAK's level of reserves also helps the organisation to plan expenditure against variations in the way funding is received.

To balance the uncertainty of funding, our policy is to maintain financial reserves to cover these costs and allow for an orderly wind down. The current estimate of these costs is c. £85,000 – £90,000. Without a renewal or replacement of existing grants in place and based on current expenditure levels, RAK is estimated to still remain in a position to cover these costs for the coming 12 months as our unrestricted reserves stand at £145,518.

Risks and internal controls

As required by the Charity Commission, the Board formally records an assessment of the risks faced by the organisation.

The Board regularly considers matters relating to risk and reviews the risk register. The Board is satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate exposure to such risks.

The Board has overall responsibility for ensuring RAK has appropriate systems of control, both financial and operational. These systems are designed to provide reasonable, but not absolute, assurance against material misstatement or loss. During the period, the Trustees continued to review the major financial and operational risks facing RAK and continue to monitor on a regular basis the implementation of any changes necessary to ensure that, as far as reasonable, controls are in place to protect RAK, its members, those working for it, the general public and other stakeholders.

Governance

Trustees are appointed for a term of three years by a resolution passed at a convened meeting of the charity trustees. As the work of the charity is with refugees and asylum seekers, the Board seeks to ensure that refugees are appropriately represented on the Board.

At present, the CIO does not have extra classes of non-voting or associated members. The Chair of the Board is responsible for inducting any new Trustees, supported by the Chief Executive Officer. The induction includes the roles and responsibilities of a Trustee, the aims and objectives of the charity and administrative information. Each new Trustee is required to sign a declaration of eligibility and references are sought. They are also supplied with the most recent annual report and accounts and a copy of the Charity Commission booklet, 'The Essential Trustee'.

Members of the Board during the period are set out on page 10. The Board meets five or six times in the year and is responsible for monitoring progress against a business plan prepared annually.

History

Refugee Action Kingston (RAK) was established in 1991 as a charity, registered with the Charity Commission on 24 August 1992 under a constitution adopted in January 2001. In 2018, RAK completed the process of changing its legal structure to a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO).

Declarations

Statement as to disclosure of information to Independent Examiner

In so far as the Trustees are aware:

- there is no relevant audit information of which the charity's Independent Examiner is unaware; and
- the Trustees have taken all steps that they ought to have taken to make themselves aware of any relevant audit information and to establish that the Independent Examiner is aware of that information.

Statement of Trustees' responsibilities

The Trustees are responsible for preparing the report and accounts in accordance with applicable law and regulations. Charity law requires the Trustees to prepare accounts for each financial period. Under that law the Trustees have elected to prepare the accounts in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and Applicable Law). Under charity law the Trustees must not approve the accounts unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity and of the surplus or deficit of the charity for that period. In preparing these accounts, the Trustees are required to:

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently.
- make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent.
- prepare the accounts on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The Trustees are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the charity's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and enable them to ensure that the accounts comply with the Charity SORP 2015. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Independent Examiner's report

Independent Examiner's report to the Trustees of Refugee Action Kingston for the Year ending 31 March 2025.

I report on the accounts of the charity for the period ending 31 March 2025.

Respective responsibilities of Trustees and Examiner

The charity's Trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The charity's Trustees consider that an audit is not required for this Period under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act) and that an independent examination is needed. The charity's gross income exceeded £250,000 and I am qualified to undertake the examination by being a qualified member of The Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act;
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of Independent Examiner's report

My examination was carried out in accordance with the General Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeking explanations from you as Trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent Examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

- (1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the 2011 Act; and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the 2011 Act have not been met; or
- (2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
