Intellectual & Emotional Torah – Rabbi Josh Harris

In this week's parsha, there is a formulation that appears only once in the Torah. The Torah states: "Vayedaber Moshe el Hashem leymor" – "And Moshe spoke to Hashem, saying..." (Bamidbar 27:15). Typically, we are used to this phrase in the reverse order. Usually, God speaks with Moshe. In this instance, Moshe initiated the contact. After being informed that he will only see and not enter Eretz Yisrael, Moshe asks Hashem to appoint a successor. Once again, we witness Moshe's greatness. Rather than considering his own needs and desires as he nears his departure from this world, he first and foremost expresses his concern about the future of Am Yisrael.

Hashem responds with informing Moshe that Yehoshua will be his successor. As part of the anointing process, Hashem instructs Moshe וְשָׁמַחְתָּ אֶת-יָדְךָ עָלָיו – "You shall lay your hand upon him." Yet, when Moshe appoints Yehoshua, it states: וַיִּסָּמֵךְ אֶת-יָדָיו עָלָיו – "He laid his hands upon him." The instruction was to do 'smicha' – lay upon Yehoshua's head with one hand, yet Moshe used two hands. It may seem trivial, yet, Rav Yosef Solovetchik derives an important message from this distinction.

Rav Soloveitchik explains that in Hashem instructs Moshe to not only appoint Yehoshua but to also וְנָתַתָּה מִהוֹדְךָ עָלָיו – "You shall bestow some of your majesty (hod) upon him". This "majesty" was figuratively imparted via Moshe's second hand.

There are two traditions that Moshe transferred to Yehoshua. One is the tradition of learning Torah. The second (hod - majesty), was experiential. One can learn Hilchot Shabbat, yet not truly comprehend the unique and special aspect of the Shabbat. To truly understand Shabbos, one has to experience it. In Chumash Mesorat HaRav, Rav Soloveitchik laments, "This is an educational-philosophical problem that has weighed heavily upon me. To contemporary Orthodox Jews the Torah is revealed in intellectual categories, in cold thought and logic. However, it has not merited being revealed in a living 'sensory' mode, which causes both trembling and gladdening of the heart. They recognise Torah as an idea, but they do not encounter it as an unmediated reality that one can taste, see, and feel."

Yehoshua was the perfect candidate to take on the mantle of leadership of the Jewish people due to his incredible experience of emotional and experiential Torah, in addition to his wisdom. Yehoshua never left Moshe's side. The verse states in Shemot 33:11, "His attendant, Yehoshua Bin-Nun, a lad, would not depart from the tent (Shemos 33:11). Yehoshua learned from the way Moshe spoke to others, how he kept Mitzvot, how he experienced festive days and how he conducted himself of a daily basis. Judaism and Torah was not solely an intellectual pursuit for him that he studied from his master. In addition, it was an all-consuming way of life that was dictated by experience and emotion as well.

It is interesting to note that Yehoshua is often referred to as lad (na'ar) even though he was clearly in his fifties! He had the attitude of a young boy, someone willing to learn and absorb from every act of his teacher. Therefore, Yehoshua merited two transmissions, the mesorah of the mind and the mesorah of the heart – transmitted via Moshe's two hands.

Our task is to be able to transmit these two facets of Torah to our students and children. Torah is not just an intellectual pursuit, but one that has to pierce the heart and emotions of an individual. Like Moshe, we need to serve as a personal example and do all we can so that we convey the emotional as well as the intellectual beauty of the Torah.

10 MINUTE HORIM V'YELADIM

After last month's successful launch, the 10 Minute Horim V'Yeladim is back! This is a reminder of how it will work:

1. There will be a parent-child learning sheet on the Bimah in the Deal Hall at the conclusion of the services
2. The sheets will be available from the end of the services until around 12:15. Feel free to come at any time!
3. At the end of the sheet is question - if your child comes to tell us the answer, they will receive an ice cream.

Looking forward to see you there!

In Conversation with Paul Gross
"WHAT YOU SEE FROM HERE, YOU DON'T SEE FROM THERE"

Few outside Israel appreciate the scale of the national trauma caused by the events of 7 October. Israel is not the same country or society as it was on 6 October, and understanding how and why it has changed is critical to understanding why Israeli's view the atrocity - and their country's response - differently to the rest of the world.

TUESDAY 6 AUGUST
8.15PM

Paul Gross writes and lectures on Israeli and global politics. His writing can be found in a number of publications in Israel, the UK, and the US; and he has appeared as a political commentator on Israeli English-language news channels. In the months before 7 October, he was involved in the mass protests against the government, as one of the leaders of the "Olim for Democracy" movement.

Paul moved to Israel from the UK in 2007 after working for the Home Office on legislation tackling religious discrimination, and for the Embassy of Israel in London as the Ambassador's speechwriter. He has a Masters in Middle East Politics from the School of Oriental & African Studies (SOAS).

The United Synagogue cemeteries are maintained to a good standard but due to the nature of the grounds there are inevitable risks namely, slips and trips.

In particular, please be careful when visiting our older cemeteries, paths can be very uneven. When walking around the graves please ensure that you do not hold onto the headstones and you watch your footing.

The ground at these cemeteries is very volatile; subsidence can occur at any time. Please take notice of the iron railings and any signage indicating risk.
