The Boy and his Dog

By Semilore

A son like a moon

One day there was a boy name Tayo,
He loves to play with his dog, whose name is Puppy,

He loves to play football.

He likes to score a goal, he loves to – Gebel.

You can score a goal if you are Debell.

He loves to smell a beautiful flower,

His best food is rice and salad.

He has a friend with my name - Semilore.

Thank you. Bye.

The Invisible Girl

By Cortni

The invisible girl,
Once a glorious time.

Poems from Benthall's Young Pirates

There was a girl named Emily,
And her twin sister – Cheetos,
Emily got more attention in school.
And her diary was flushed down the toilet,
By her evil stepmother and Emily.
In school, Emily told everybody that Cheetos has a crush on Ryan.
So as Cheetos came, on prom night Cheetos asked Ryan to prom,
Ryan said yes.
On prom night, Ryan did not show up.

Gymnastics! By Niyah

My favourite hobby in the whole world is gymnastics.

My best gymnastics move is a cartwheel. That is when you put your hands on the floor and then you quickly move your legs over your body in a big circle.

When people see a good cartwheel, they cheer because it looks amazing and athletic. Everyone loves a good cartwheel because it proves that they have talent in gymnastics.

When I'm in gymnastics it makes me feel excited and thrilled to have the chance to try something I loved

Poems from Benthall's Young Pirates

since I was young.

As time goes on you learn more and more challenging moves like front flips or splits.

You can get inspired by Simone Biles. Do you know who she is? She's a famous gymnast and lots of people love to see her live at the Olympics.

When I joined gymnastics, I got scared at first, but the more I went, the more I realised that it was easy as pie.

And I got more confident about cartwheels, handstands and more.

The Legends of Timmy and Jimmy By Cade

Once there were two legends -

Timmy and Jimmy the sailors.

They were sailors, but also friends.

They fought lots of ships,

until one day there were enemy sailors:

Biscuit and Cookie.

They were great fighters.

Sadly, Timmy and Jimmy's fun had to come to an end, but their souls still live on.

I got more copybaras - they were Timmy and Jimmy Jr.

Poems from Benthall's Young Pirates

They were defeated by the same pirates until the 5th and final battle.

Whoever wins must leave being a pirate.

Sadly - drum roll - they turned out to be losers.

They cried. Fun fact: that was my friend. I felt sad for them, but they deserve it.

After that I decided to rule the battle pond.

HAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHAHA!

I feel my best friend has just given up.

People hated my friend for sending their capybaras out to sea - in this case, to the pond - and took them home.

He was savage.

So I did something... I played football.

My favourite footballer is Ronaldinho, my idol.

I have two of them, the other one is Mbappe.

He played for Real Madrid - Killian Mbappe.

How I feel

By Jawdat

I like my friends,

But never when they end,

I like the sky,

Cause' it's up high,

I like reading in my mind,

I like beading one of a kinds',

I like yoga,

And playing Toca.

Poems from Benthall's Young Pirates

I sigh when people lie,
I cry when I hurt my thigh.

As Fast as Light By Barney

Keys are like gems cos you can escape the cops when you press the button
You can play it on any gizmo
The coins make you faster
The first basic character is Jake
The characters are as cool as Dogman
My high score is as cool as dazzling gems
You glisten when you escape the cops
You get faster when your high score hits 20,000
Mine is as fast as light!

MY FOOTBALL POEM

By Gabriel

At school I play as goalkeeper for my team,

Our football kit is as blue as an ocean,

I save goals as fast as a light beam,

When someone shoots, the first thing I think of

Is how fast I'll react and how important it is to win.

Our school pitch is red rubber and it feels like cold blubber,

My friend Luan hits the ball like if he was about to explode,

My gloves are as black as a cloaked shadow struggling to be revealed.

Sometimes it rains so much I could be baptised.

The Journey of Football

By Luan

I enjoy playing football with Gabriel.

Poems from Hackney New's Young Pirates

He is one of the best keepers I've ever seen,

So I give him 5 big booms as a compliment.

Gabriel is as good as me.

His shots are as powerful as a bullet.

My friend is as fast as a cheetah.

When I shoot, in my head I am like, please go in.

When I tackled the ball, it was like I just absorbed it to me – swish.

When I am keeper I feel like I am in my own box and go into my own world.

When I am playing I go godly form.

When I play I hear the parents cheering in the background - boom.

When I play, the duty of the leader is to carry you to victory.

When I score, my team comes and cheers me on and congratulates me.

FRIENDS

By Deniz

Having fun and making memories.

Facing all our fears together.

Having water fights, going to trampoline parks, having sleepovers

and pillow fights!

Eating random things together, buying things we don't need and making poisons with shampoo and food colouring, all with funny, crazy, brave friends!

I never EVER wanna leave them. All my days, weeks, hours and even years are only spent with them!

My mind will only go to my friends. My mind won't go to anyone else, only my friends, because they are the only ones who make me laugh the most. After all, they know me best.

And they always treat me the best.

If you ever fall down then NEVER EVER worry

Poems from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

because..... YOU HAVE FRIENDS!!!

They will always be there to pick you up whenever you fall.

If you ever feel lonely, then all you have to do is have some patience because soon your brilliant friends will come and turn that frown into the world's biggest smile!

The sweetest treat anyone can get is to spend a day with your friends!

Travel the World By Kirubel

Travel the world

A train is as fast as a cheetah,

Morocco is as hot as a fire.

French window..

I used the microwave to heat my food.

I convinced them to let me go to Spain,

I delivered my dad to go to Germany with me and my family.

Doodled on my dad's work and didn't go on holiday.

In real life, I got to play an obby.

I want to travel the world.

DISCOMBOBULATED FRIENDS

By Naomi

My friend is as helpful as a teacher.

My friend is as fast as a cheetah.

My friend is as magnificent as a friend.

My friend is as intelligent as Einstein.

My friend is as funny as a clown.

My friend is as kind as an angel.

OH no, I feel discombobulated again.

Time to milk my neighbour's toaster!

SLEEPOVERS

By Nayana

Sleepovers are so fun!

Because in the garden you get to have fun, run and have a good time.

When it gets late you get to have pizza.

As stretchy as a squishy.

As yellow as the sun.

Delicious like a party in your mouth.

Sleepovers are so fun!

Scaring your friends with creepy movies.

Sleepovers are so fun!

Scouts Camp

By Yonis

Running down the hill as fast as a dragonfly,

Making burgers from the very start, I felt like a butcher

Poems from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

in a butcher's shop.

Hearing the campfire sizzling and firing up the marshmallows - a nice sugary smell. My mouth was dripping like a running tap.

Pitter Patter... oh no, it's raining again.

Adventures at Sea By Afreen

Finland was really fun.
The cruise ship was big and humongous.
I saw an adventure play area,
It was called fear of the dark.
It looked scary and terrifying – really scary.
Warehouses floating on the sea,
Like a metal whale.
Have you ever wondered what the fish thought about it?
I was feeling zingy,
I pranked my cousins with stinky beans – dead fish and dog food flavour.
Their faces were funny.
It is strawberry and mango ice cream, spreading softly around the sapphire sky.
Wind pushing people's hair to another side.
Slippery floors and splash waves.
Peaceful, comfy beds on the sea.

Stages of Life

By Laura

Babies cry, toddlers play, adults work
Babies cry because they need to lie down
Adults work - they cannot hide...

Babies live rent free
Toddlers pay no fee
Adults pay all fee, nothing is for free...

Differences X Body Change
Different clothes, different styles, different smells you have You get taller - shorter maybe? Teeth grow, nails grow too, hair grows Different interests! Get better at things like art, swimming and other things!

More friends just like before - Yay!
New or more worries, more awkward moments and dramatic moments, more exams

Time to hide!

We get smarter than ever - smarter than a genius.

The Movie Night by Niah

As I sit down with my friends to watch My Little Pony
The Magical Movie, (I don't know why, we thought it would be fun), the door busts open, and it's my friend.

For once she brought marshmallows, because the popcorn she usually brings makes the room smell like a cotton candy machine. SPLASH went the TV as the ponies jumped into the water.

As we munched on our popcorn, BING BONG went the clock. It was now midnight and we all fell asleep.

We were woken up by the smell of my mother's fresh pancakes, as we munched down on them, they all said that they tasted almost professional.

School trips, Fifa and Roblox By Rowin

I thought about school trips in year 4.

I saw school events on the school board.

I can smell the delicious food and hear the red velvet cake coming to me.

Poems from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

Kids Mania is a very fun place for children to go,

You go through to a ball pit and there is boxing.

Fifa is so good, it just like real football, and when I play Roblox,

I feel like a robot that has unlocked a spaceship.

Kids vs Adults

By Talal

Kids can play video games and adults cannot, because they are bad at it.
In FortNite you feel overpowered like a sword.
Have you ever played Fortnite with your friends?
Have you ever felt overpowered?
You will feel very hyped out, AAAHHH!
You will not feel bored when playing this awesome, magnificent, excellent game.
Fortnite is like a football match.

Holiday

By Sarah

When I go on holiday, I normally go on train or plane.
When I go on a train I sit by the window.

Poems from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

My mum sits next to me when I am on the train.
Out the window I see cows, horses, and fields of grass.
It is fun looking outside. I normally have to sit up to look outside. I also like to draw and play games.

The games I play are hangman, complete the shape, and many more. I also get hungry on the train so sometimes on the train there is a cafe, so I get stuff from it like hot chocolate because it gets cold.

When I go on a plane it is a short time because it's scary for my dad. I like flying though and its fun! They serve snacks and drinks.

And the toilet is small. All I see outside the window is clouds and the sky and sometimes another plane. I like going to the airport, because its fun to go somewhere.

Sleepover! By Sabrina

The junk food was as amazing as a

Michelin star chef's cooking.

We went outside, played on electronics,

Then stayed up,

Poems from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

The thundering of my heart when the parents came was roaring,

My ears ached from it.

But the next hour we played and ate some wingstop and had some hash browns and milkshakes all day,

And barely go to sleep and the next day we had nutella crepes with strawberry and chocolate covering,

It was sweet as a tub of sugar.

It was the best, better than the rest.

And something crazy happened.

Someone screamed outside!
So, me and my friends closed the window,

So we didn't hear from them no more and we went and played and watched TV and ate some hash browns and did more activities like play outside.

Don't worry that guy is gone.

But in the end we always have fun.

Poems from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

Just an ordinary day of school

By Abdrahman

A bubble when it pops
It disappears into a new dimension.
A new group of people in Skinners' Academy when we make new friends.
In secondary.
Making new friends,
Getting a fun education in school.
As a group,
We went to a place with panorama view.
It was a landscape.
I heard that their education and music is very good.

Life is a Maze!

By Tomiwa

Kids like looking from the narrowest valley
Which deepens the soul to the deepest ocean
Which opens the heart

The gentle wind opens the squeaking golden door of a light full of freeness and laughter

The begging fireflies on top of shimmering water
Are the pleasant light that lights up the light of a child

Poems from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

Life is a rollercoaster
It has its ups and downs.
It's laughter and sadness.

The library lights up a kid's whole imagination

Life is a maze for a kid to search
You can choose which route you want to follow

Kids know everything By Zane

Kids know how to play video games.
Unlike adults, we don't have to pay taxes.
We know how to do math quicker, like a Peregrine falcon.
Work is prison - having to stay there for 12 hours, plus overtime.
We get breaks and get to rest like a lazy lion.
Kids have a better physique like a powerful Pitbull's jaws,
Or the body builder named Big Bicep Biggy!
Have you ever felt like there is a monster under your bed?
At least I know that monsters aren't real,
Apart from the gremlins in your closet.

Poems from Hoxton Garden's Young Pirates

Bluebell Flower By Jennifer

I walked to the garden.

I laid down.

The grass felt nice.

The sun was so bright.

I smelt the bluebell – it smelled like perfume.

It was amazing.

Every time I walk it is so warm.

I felt lazy and I fell asleep.

I was running.

I was thinking.

I can hear wind blowing.

It was so blue.

Poems from Hoxton Garden's Young Pirates

Playing Roblox, because it is fun.
Going to the park with my sister.
Being the youngest.
My brother knowing what I want.
Getting noodles.
Getting £10 from my dad every Friday.
Having fun.
Having a funny brother.

The Energy Rollercoaster By Angel

I hate it when I barely have energy even an old person could have more energy than me.
I have the energy of a tired old woman.
I hate it because I always wake up late for school.
I can't even get out of bed when I wake up. Even coco pops can't get me up because of how tired I am.
If I wake up early, I justly just go back to bed.
Even my mum has more energy than me.
If I don't go to school my mum will get angry at me.
Well at least I have a bit more energy after I eat lunch, but I still barely have any.
I can't even brush my teeth when I wake up.
When I come back home the only thing I do is sleep.

All Seasons By Yoana

Summer
Sunny rays,
As people play.
Heatwaves hit,
As the sun lit.
The shining sun,
Is super fun.

Spring
Flowers bloom,
Underneath the dark moon.
Baby's awake,
As their mothers await.
Animals munch,
On a grass bunch.

Autumn
Leaves crunch,
As the kids eat lunch.

Poems from Orchard's Young Pirates

Leaves drop,
With a plop.
Dry leaves dance,
With a prance.

Winter
Cold chill,
Upon the hill.
Snow lay,
In the day,
Snowmen sing,
While the bells ring.

All seasons
I like to play every day,
In every way.
I am happy,
When you are funny.
Seasons are great,
And when you need fun, you never have to wait.

My Favourite Thing About Being a Kid By Kayra

My favourite thing about being a kid

Is playing football and wandering about in school because

It makes me feel more active in school.

I love a fierce competition and children bantering about in football like an aggressive lion!

I love tackling the ball and scoring for my team

And celebrating like a lion finding meat. When I score, I have a special celebration.

When I score, I feel HYPED and EXCITED!!! Like my dad at my football matches.

My team beat Liverpool 1-0.

They see me as a star scoring away in a porthole

An enemy was running past me and I NUTMEGGED
HIM!!! And I scored.

The whistle sounding like a shrieking bird

Poems from Princess May's Young Pirates

And the goal sounding like the wind blowing past me.

Reuben's Life By Reuben

My favourite food is fish and chips with some ketchup
I also like pancakes with honey or syrup.
My favourite thing to watch on tv is Roblox
I love running as fast as Sonic the hedgehog.
At weekends when there's no school I get to stay up all night -
I love doing that!
I don't like swimming because it is hard,
I like trains but I LOVE the DLR because you can see the front of the train.
Went I grow up I'm going to be a train driver
And also my favourite colour is green.

The Bicycle Kick! By Ondrej

My favourite is playing football.
I love to score goals like Ronaldo.
One day I would like to score a bicycle kick.
That's when you jump in the air, kick the ball and then land on your back.
Don't try it if you're scared of getting injured.

Poems from Queensbridge's Young Pirates

Friend By Sinteja

I felt the cold grass touch my hand as my friend hugged me and stated,
“You will be my best friend forever and ever,”
I smiled and stood up, looking at the fireflies everywhere.
We went towards the firefly field, and we ran around watching the fireflies kiss the sky soaring up and up!
We made fun memories, and when we finished, we staggered onto the ground, tired and laughing!
We went home and played a game and laughed so loud that all the birds flew away, it was fun!
Life is too short to be sad and negative, enjoy your sweet life.

What I Don't Like and What I Do By Helathie

Sometimes my siblings and I don't get along
They can be a little annoying
I love my iPad
I love pizza
I dislike school
And they make me sad
I can never be glad
I might get into a fight
And I am not always right
I wish they were nice
Maybe not too many fights
I can finally be right
I will be happy without a fight
I like my siblings for not a lot of things
For their cooking or for their playing Sometimes they were right
I might be a little glad

Poems from Queensbridge's Young Pirates

I love music
It buzzes in my ears
It calms me down
Ends my frown
And I can be a little glad

And I loved it.

My Favourite Things By Michelle

I love it when I pillow fight, I noticed that I love doing my friends' hair. I remembered that I watch K-Pop Demon Hunters movies. I began to feel the fun because at 1'o clock I could not sleep because it was so fun.

Poems from Queensbridge's Young Pirates

I was surprised by making presents for my friends. I can see my friends and me playing games, the presents I made were bracelets and they were different colours, like pink, red, blue. They were shining as the sun, my friend asked kindly to see a surprise for my different friend.

And I made food because they were hungry, me and my mum made pizza. They were hungry as a shark and the pizza was small because they ate fast as a lion.

Clacton-on-Seagull By Henry

The beach was so fun, I watched the fish, I watched the rocks, I didn't want to go back. We had to go since that was not the beach we were going to at all.

We walked, and walked, and walked. Finally, we were there. The beach was so big, there were so many people, there was so much food. I didn't want to go back. There were so many hungry seagulls eating everyone's food, but we didn't go there. We went to the arcade, where we played, and it was so packed. It was reasonable since it was so big, like so big, bigger than a house, I didn't know why. There were so many people playing. There was a play area, I went there, and it was soooooooooo big and so fun. We went out of the arcade, and we got some food. It was good. We went to the beach, and it was kind of a mistake since my sisters food got eaten by a seagull. We went on a big toy train for 20 minutes, I was enjoying looking out. After that, we walked home and slept.

Second day, second arcade. That means that we went to another arcade. It was a lot smaller, but a lot nearer, and it was just a bit fun. My sister went on a ride, and it was so big, she went so high and we left. Second day, second arcade, first McDonald's. We had a big meal, we ate and we were happy. Second seagull who ate people's food.

I did not go outside, I went inside. We were so happy and we enjoyed it.

We went home and we kept thinking that it was a dream. If it was it would be subpar but it was not.

Malaysia By Charlotte

It was very high.

It was super long.

It was exciting.

Poems from Queensbridge's Young Pirates

Flying in the sky.

As we were flying in the sky,

We were landing on the bumpy road.

It was hot, hotter than you think.

I was annoyed when I had to sleep.

When I went back, I had to play my brilliant violin to go to exams.

What I Want To Be

By Tatum

Some people want to be a dancer,

But I want to be a footballer.

Being a footballer requires hard work,

So get in a park and work hard.

You do have to run, run, run

Who knew football could be so fun!

Just kick a ball around

You don't even have to get out of town.

Some people want to be a dancer,

But I want to be a footballer.

Football is fun, but it could be hard.

Don't be sad.

Poems from Queensbridge's Young Pirates

Don't be gnarled.
Be careful you might leave your ball behind!
Sometimes it could be hard to find!
Some people want to be a dancer,
But I want to be a footballer.
Every day I practice.
Every day I work hard.
Every day I push my limits.

Until I can no more.
BECAUSE I LOVE FOOTBALL!

Football is famous,
But I don't care.
Because as long as I play,
I could play all day.
You could learn new tricks,
Earn ticks.
Get a ball and kick.
But most of all...
HAVE FUN!

Because when you're older
You get less athletic
You cannot play anymore.
So be you.
Do more.
Show them you're the best
Focus on you.

Poems from Queensbridge's Young Pirates

Not the rest.

Some people want to be a dancer,
But I want to be a footballer.

I am great at math and geography and history,
I'm a Muslim and I'm Greek Turkish,
I go to the mosque, read and play,
I go Queensbridge school,
My favourite game is FC26 and roblox.

Arsenal By Arman

I like playing football.

And I like running as fast as I can so no one can tackle me, and then pass or score.

To learn new skills, we do teamwork.

And I am in the Arsenal stadium, and there were 100,000 million fans in the stadium - as busy as a city.

I hope who wins and who doesn't... I hope Arsenal win but not PSG.

I can smell some French pizza or the Arsenal pizza and chips.

I am watching the Arsenal football match.

Arsenal vs PSG - and watching the players.

I can hear the cheering and the whistle when they get a red card or a yellow card.

I feel happy, and I must've felt strong and brave.

I noticed that there were no slide tackles.

Poems from Shoreditch Park's Young Pirates

And the football match starts at 7:00 and ends at 10:00.

And Arsenal won the last final league cup, and I felt joyful.

Suddenly I cheered - ah ah ah!

There is a final football match: Arsenal vs Tottenham

Arsenal looks like they are scoring... and they score!

Life of Messi Start to Finish By Messi

One thing about being a kid is that it's very easy,

you just get to relax alllllllllllllllllll day.

My favourite thing to do as a kid is play and read,

most of the time I play football.

My favourite food is pizza,

The Amazing Poem About Friends By Anthony

I like picking yellow flowers because it reminds me of a golden sun, and I am allowed to go to my friend's house.

He stares at the same tree every time. I always ask him why he stares at it, but he doesn't respond.

He calls me the repetition god.

I like eating chocolate and vanilla ice cream

Sometimes I get confused at my friends,

Because they go crazy after slushy, and when I eat it, I can't even eat it -

Because when it's summer it melts.

I can only eat it inside my house.
I pray for the ice cream truck to park next to my house.

Why We Need Friends By Cyprus

Hello there,
You might think kids are cute, funny, caring.
But no!
Kids make your life hell or worse!
Kids are the last thing you'll want in your life.
They'll make you cry, that is why you need something called a friend.
But of course,
I'm not forcing you to listen to me.
Unless you know you want to sit alone eating ice cream and watching a sad movie by yourself or something.

My Dream Car By Kevauri

My dream car...
My dream car is a blue car with six seats
With wings and an AI to help me eat healthy stuff
And outside there are people with robot dogs.

My car will be shining
And my car can time travel.

BEING A KID

By Skye

I like being a kid because you don't have to pay taxes which are sooooooooooooooooooooooooooooo boring.

You also get to go on rollercoasters at Adventure
Islaaaaaaaaaaaaand!!!!!!!!!!!!

Also, I don't like paying for anything really because my naughty older brother will steal it all.

As a kid you get to try different things and adults have to work for nine hours each day!

As a kid you can have sleepovers and tell each other secrets.

Being a kid is so fun especially with my best friend Emily!

Football Match

By Tiffany-Rose

I can see people.
I can smell the engine of the train.
I am feeling happy about the game.
I'm jumping.

Poems from St John the Baptist's Young Pirates

I'm thinking about my game.
I can hear the train loud.
I thought about if I could win the game.
I wondered if I would score a goal.
I hate it when we lose a match.
I love it when we win a game.
I noticed when I play against this team we win.
I realised 'What if I don't win or score?'

I couldn't believe I scored a goal!
I was surprised by the other team,
I wondered whether they would score a goal.
Would we lose?
I was upset when the other team scored.
I didn't see how we let them win.
I wished we won.

FRIENDS By Victoria

Forever friends side by side,
Ready to do everything with you.
I will be your friend for an eternity, like a star in the universe,
Every step along the way, every day.
Never out of your sight,
Determined as dust to be with you.
Spending time as friends, to the end.

Ready to face anything together,
Everlasting friendship,
Never leaving each other's sides,
Bold forever together,
Singing like divas forever and together,

They go on play dates with you,
Friends are one of the best things ever,

The Biting Crab

By Leshenay

I was afraid to touch the spiky red claws from the crab.
Even though it was as small as a bug.

I ran away from the scary crab and sand got all over my feet.

As the crab chased me, I ran like the wind.

I could hear the noisy wild wind from my speed. I started to get anxious and scared.

CRACKKK!!!

Oops, I accidentally stepped on the crab!

AHHHH!!!

It pinched me!

House

By Namil

I am in the classroom with kind friends

I can see the water slide

Poems from St John the Baptist's Young Pirates

And many people go there you can't share snacks with your friends

Because you can get in big trouble with the likeable teacher

You can't drive a car yet because you don't have your licence

Only adults can drive not children

And no one cares if you're shouting like T-Rex

And don't make noise because you can get in trouble with the teacher

And no sharing fruit with your friends

It ended at eight forty

Then you can go back home, it makes you feel happy

Then you can breathe you can smell fresh air outside

You can stay on your bed and have some break and some snacks

THE SLEEPOVER!!!!

By Adeena

Hi, my name is Adeena and I'm 10, and I will be talking about my sleepover.

I'm learning new things with my friends,

I can't wait to go into the Airbnb.

I can see the colourful workbooks and I feel excited and party and happy.

At the sleepover I could smell the sweet, salty crispy

popcorn.

The people that I'm going to have a sleep over with are...

Anjola, Leschaney, Nevaeh, Tiff, Skye, Kamilah, Hannah.

I could see the iPad.

We played Roblox, Do Not Call at 3am, Bare Avenue
Brookhaven, Dress to Impress, 99 Nights in the Forest.

We watched a horror movie, Pennywise at 3am.

We played Roblox again and watched another horror movie, The Babysitters 3 and 4.

I was not scared... but deep down I was terrified.

Then we snuck to the Westend and rode an electric scooter

...And we played hide and seek at 5 am.

We shopped at the mall and bought McDonalds,
KFC, Wing Stop, Popeyes, Daily's Fried Chicken and Starbucks.

I was so happy.

Pancakes for breakfast

Poems from St John the Baptist's Young Pirates

Golden brown waffles
Mountains high and hills that rise
Friends together
Don't always stay forever
Playing in the playground
With everyone outside
Nothing was bad
Even when we were sad
Our friends cheered us up
When we played we laughed
Hahaha
We would play with each other
Until it was time to go
When the day was over
We would sleep 'til the sun rose
To start the day afresh

Like Being a Kid By Theo

Being a child is like a fox alone on the street

You can feel the wind hit your skin, you can hear on the street,

Poems from St John the Baptist's Young Pirates

Taste different food all the time.

You can see your friends at school,

Five times a week.

It smells like the high mountain,

Playing football like being free.

Dreaming is like going back in time with your imagination,

Going to the beach is like having the time of your life.

Poems from St Matthias' Young Pirates

With the Clouds By Sarai

It feels like a dream while eating whipped cream,

As I flap, I rap with a cap,

While jumping on a gymnastic beam with

Big and mighty activity.

I feel like a spy, I can't be controlled as I fly,

While doing flips I play tricks,

While I play sport, people make forts,

Having fun living and don't have to fight,

Happily, shining to God and lots more to see sparkling.

As I boom! Wack! And Wiggle! I start to scribble,

Seeing the world sparkling,

Having fun, no matter what I do just living life and flying like a grebe,

Seeing a boy play violin I also love to swim.

What Dreams Hold By Kerem

While kids sleep like angels
Adults wash their minds of everyday
Like a crazy maniac
In your futuristic dreams
You can scream as loud as a whistle
In your beautiful dreams
You can fly as high as a plane
In your weird dreams
You can transform into what you desire
Maybe a shark
Maybe a flying dog
Or a fire breathing crocodile
It doesn't matter

Poems from St Matthias' Young Pirates

Even a laser eyed frog
And then you wake up
But you will visit that mythical place again
Sometime again

The White and Red Tiger! By D'Neisha

The shiny tiger is glaring at me.
My drink is fizzing.
The orange, shiny cheetah is glaring like a dinosaur and roaring like a tiger!
My family is important like my heart!
The mouth breathes out like cold air.
The lion is staring at me,
and their eyes are glowing at me!

I LOVE SPORTS DAY

By Joel

Every sports day, we would start stretching in the sunshining morning.

It's right close to the church, children are screaming loud and proud like a football crowd, saying, "we are going to win" and my team said, "we'll see about that."

The field was fresh green grass, but we were playing the game Stuck in the Mud before we started doing our main focus.

Some people were doing some exercises before we started.

As we were playing, the blue team were planning something mysterious. As the fun began, they were standing there nonstop, watching with a mysteriously large smile as the kids in the purple team, and the ones in green, red and blue teams were in a tie.

I am in the green team, and we are thinking of a plan.
We have an unstoppable force and nobody is going to stop us.

The red team had an unbeatable performance in the finals.

FOOTBALL!

By Amelia

Balls flying in the air like they don't care.

In your thoughts, you can hear people screaming your name. You can hear people saying "Sophie!" like a gold, gleaming trophy.

What would you do if you were playing football?

Would you play on a field or play in a hall, just having fun like I always do?

The balls were glowing like a shooting star.

The hard balls banged into the legs of the people; it was as hard as a rock dropping to the ground.

These bright sparkling balls clicked to the goal, I posed as I scored the best goal!

What would you do if you scored the best goal?

SPORTS DAY!

By Kemari

Imagine that you're in your own Olympics world and you're about to run to get a trophy, putting all your effort in. You have been practicing, making your team proud.

They are cheering for you, giving you motivation.

You're running as fast as a cheetah, making sure you are first place. Passing the finish line, everyone is shouting "You're the best!!". It gets you hyped for the last round, you're going up against the fastest people in the school...

They call your name up. You're so nervous, waiting at the start line, thinking "are you going to win or not?". You look back and see your uncle and mum cheering you on (realising your uncle is going to give you £20 if you win).

They count you down... You're running ANDDDDDD
YOU WINNNN!

AHHHHHHH! AHHHHHHH! AHHHHHHH! AHHHHHHH!

I won, oh my God I actually WON! I run over to hug my parents. I even asked one of the fastest kids in the school "am I faster than you?" and we made a solitary agreement that I am faster than him.

Day in School

By Artem

Being lazy like a log
Slipping to the bathroom
Buzzing sound of brushing
Flying to the kitchen
Eating breakfast like a vacuum
Teleporting to my room
Tucking everything on me
Looking like a messy star
Jumping out the window
Hopping straight on my bike
Barely looking at all
Coming through the gate
Spawning my bike on a parking slot
Climbing on the door
Juggling on my chair
Thinking about my tasty meal
People jumping out of their seats
Yapping too much thing
Paper planes flashed around the class
The clock hit our break time
And the class whizzes outside.
As I get the basketball
Break is already over
I threw it away
Going back to class
Settle down before the teacher

Poems from St Matthias' Young Pirates

Getting a book to write a lot
Lunch time came
Everybody got out
And the door nearly bashed my head
The match had started
I got ball back again
And scored another goal
We got called to go to lunch
As I get my food
I start munching straight away
Coming out of the hall
Lunch is finished
Classroom is waiting for us to come
To sit down and start the questions
They are hard
But for me it's too easy
Home time had arrived
I get my clothes
And left the school very quickly
With my bike straight home
Wash my hands with soap
Taking my clothes off
Settling on my chair to play games
On my computer.....

The Jolly Elf By Baiza

Feeling like a jolly elf

Feeling like being myself

I wish I could be in my bed.

Cozy, wrapped up like a ball, floating on a cloud full of sleep instead

I wish I was on a cloud full of sleep.

I wish I was in a wonderland and seeing all the candy I can't even count up.

Floating through the solar system, imagining that there's aliens.

A secret I can't even hold to myself, so I just let them know, telling them funny stuff.

Me being a kid... By Maddie

Playing the keyboard as I crash out,
But then I pout.

Poems from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

Playing for hours,
Feeling like I have powers.

Playing for years,
With some tears.

Literacy Pirates is the best,
As I am a guest.
I'm the beast,
To the least.
Since I'm the best,
I like to jest.

I like to dream,
As I am a team.

Silly fights with my friends,
Are so cruel,
Like baby drool.

The Beach By Michael

The sand as hot as the sun,
Saying goodbye before the moon comes,
Eating chips as hot as an oven,

Poems from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

Talking to the waves at the edge of the beach.

Coming out of the water like a soggy fish,

Digging sand to find a seashell,

Seagulls flying over me,

Sitting directly at the sun.

A Long Journey

By Marlon

As hungry as a man with heatstroke, as lost as a blind person, terrain stretching for vast distances and I was foolish enough to keep going even though I don't know the way. "May God lead me," I said desperately. I went on for too long, how disappointed I was when I found out that it won't stop. "There is still hope," my mind says to me, but I don't feel too sure yet. There is not a building in sight, so I had to go on for a mile or two. I knew I could still get the flu with how remarkably cold it was. I felt like I had gotten hypothermia, my heart beating slower and slower every beat...

Poems from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

The Day I got In Trouble for Nothing By Neriah

I was coming to the cafeteria to eat with my friends,

Suddenly, a girl named Luna told me a funny joke

Accidentally, I dropped my light-yellow water bottle and laughed loudly,

Everyone was looking at me like I was being weird. I felt embarrassed, but I didn't really care - it was not like I did anything worse?

I panicked as one of the janitors came to me. I didn't think it was my fault. One of my friends stopped by, her name was Keisha. I was still nervous. I told Keisha that I would come back in one minute.

But then, she walked past me and looked at me in a mysterious manner

I was confused and surprised. I was also glad that I didn't get in trouble. I forgot about the loud, strong voice she had.

I got my food and sat down. It was the same old food

Poems from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

everyday (stew). It was horrible. Luckily I had a juice box with me, I talked with my friends as the same janitor came to me. She whispered in my small ears “come and clean with me.”

I got nervous a bit because did she not just walk past me earlier? And she secretly whispered to me - It's not like she's going... to do something to me?

I laughed and cried at the same time once again as my friend Keisha told me a funny story. It was called “my chocolate fell out of my hand.”

“It's silly right?” Keisha tilted her head as if she was trying to sign something, I turned back-

And..... THE JANITOR CAME AGAIN! I panicked once more, and she said something to me again: “Hurry up!” I rushed with my dessert and came to the janitor, “come!”

She showed me a stained book with marks with dark ashes and cobwebs,

I said curiously, “why are you showing me... this?”

“Because I am a...”

WITCH.

New Friends!

By Nyla

Making new friends at the park,
Children having fun until it gets dark,
Green trees swaying in the breeze,
Walking to the park, strolling on the path,

Playing hide and seek,
Make sure you do not peek!
Races with friends,
First one to the end.

Art competitions,
Always winning,
Always losing,
Cause I'm the one with the bad drawings,
Always painting a portrait,
While eating a delicious courgette.

FRIENDSHIP

By Taliyah

When it is afternoon the moon comes soon.

With sorrow we say, "see you tomorrow."

Our friends are kind like our parents sometimes

Poems from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

We play, sometimes lay
We are able to eat on the table,
Sometimes we are active, but sometimes inactive.
We agree but not on the degree,
We are loud and proud.
We are not slow like a turtle which is low.
The sun watches us have fun
We don't play like cubs which have never been in a tub.
One day we will be dressed in white showing our bright future in sight
Telling a story about a knight who went at night to show love to a dove.

Boshakly Bong Bong!!!! By Rome

I wondered if Blye lovelssss shopping but,
I definitely know he's keen on football or swimming,
maybe both??
The grassy, green grass made us feel like we were at school,
But we were at a fun football camp..
As we were there, we noticed we stayed there for 99 nights,
Laugh-thing out loud.
Shiny trophy, bright as the sun beaming in our eyes,
WE WON A TROPHY!! Said Blye.
I nearly lost my eyesight.
Suddenly, it was night. Me and Blye were bragging about how good we are.
We heard a sudden BANG,
As loud as a GUNSHOT!
IT WAS SIR CALLING US..
We tasted coffee flowing all through our vents.
WHO COULD IT BE...

Have fun with a smile

By Keon

If you don't have fun you be done sorry kid like a lid.
If you don't have fun you will be stressed like the rest.
If you do have fun you're the best like the rest.
If you don't have fun and you do a dare it's not fair.
If you have a son then you will have fun like the sun.
If you don't have fun you will be unbelievably sad like a

I have fun with a bling and a sing with a swing.

Friendship is Life!

By Ehsan

Even at difficult times you need to have fun,
And friends to play with.

Even at difficult times you need to spend time with your family and friends.

Friendship is sunshine in your life.

Family is loving in your life.

Teachers are compassionate in your life.

I hope I never leave my friends behind,

Poems from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

If you do not have friends your whole life will be

And there would be no support in your life.
I'm not leaving my friends.

ALL ABOUT BEING A KID!

By L'Kiera

Literacy Pirates is as fun as sleeping in my wonderful bed

But sleeping is fun just as fun as loving my mum

Books are so good I could eat them all up
But the paper is poisonous so I won't eat one

Literacy Pirates is as fun as my music lessons in class
And it is more fun as eating my breakfast brunch

Rollercoasters are so fun that I will ride it 100,000 times

But don't worry I won't get dizzy I will try not to lie

A handshake is as fun as doing my homework at home

Poems from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

But it is less fun as colouring my book on a drone

A spider is so scary I will step on it
But I don't want to kill it is my favourite insect

Controlling a controller is as hard as giving up your fear
But it is more hard when you have one fear

Literacy pirates is as fun as petting my beautiful cat
But it is more fun when its being nice

A radio is so hard to work that I want to break it
But I will be in big trouble so I won't bother doing that

Pancake Fiesta

By Alicja

I look forward to Sunday, it's the day of pancake fiesta,
All of my family are invited,
Creamy chocolate, lovely lemon drizzle,
Are you hungry yet?

I see all of my family and friends,
Everyone is talking with glee,
Making pancakes is fun,
I'm an expert.

Next door neighbours come and join the fun,
Even the cats follow excitedly,
The pancakes were as soft as clouds,
The pancakes were as crispy as s'mores.

Fun Animals By Anas

Animals can't go to school because they have no

Kids can't swim underwater like fish, for example, like Animals can't speak English except parrots.

Animals can run and in my opinion the cheetah is the fastest out of all the animals.

The blue whale can eat more than kids.

My Friends By Sufyan

As I'm on the train, I can smell types of things like sugar

My face challenges things like the hard cold wind

I have always had a good friend called Mike, who likes

He always has his packet of crisps and BOOM! It spills

Owen Dangerous; toughest mission yet. By Barney

Once upon a time, there was an adventurer called Owen Dangerous.

He does cool stuff by adventuring to unknown places, bringing impressive stuff back. This is how it all started, When a newspaper said:

“LAVA TIGER FOUND”

Owen was determined to find the lava tiger, the newspaper also said “Mystical Tigernite lava stone found” Owen said to himself, “I will get this cool stuff and bring it back.”

He journeys on and on, he goes through caves and jumps over lava pits, suddenly, out of nowhere a creepy cave appears with the shape of a tiger's head. Also, lava pits appeared with lava tigers crawling out and in.

Weirdly, there was a whisper in the air who said: “hold me, hold me.” Owen saw a huge stone which sat at the back of the cave. He slowly picks up the lava stone and WOOSH! A huge fire engulfs him. First, he grows edge cutting, mile-long talons. Secondly, he took the shape of a tiger, then he grows humungous and bigger than Big Ben. He grows lava spikes on his back, and grows

Feyza Hunt By Jawdat

Once upon a time, there were three girls (Feyza, Amelia, and Cici).

They were walking through the park when the moon decided to come up. Feyza looked over the pond to see the fish shine.

Suddenly, mystical beams started coming out of her. She started to grow smaller and shrink to the size of a shoe. She fell into the cold, icy pond of water. She tasted the salty water and smelled the dirt. She had become a turtle.

Her friends thought that she disappeared, so they ran away. Feyza started gesturing for her friends to come. She was so beatific that her friends ran away. She said to them:

“IF YOU WANT TO FIND ME, I WILL BE IN THE SEA IF YOU WANT TO FIND ME!”

The message of this story is, never leave your friends, no matter what, even if they are immature.

Then, a teacher found him in the library and asked him,

By Abdrahman

I go to space, then I meet Neil Armstrong, then I work for NASA. Then we travel to Mars and we play who can jump the highest. We went to Mars and we found a shovel then started digging and found £1,000,000.

We were very happy and flew back to the Earth.

Then when we landed, we all heard a bang!

On the outside of the rocket, it was a bit broken, but we landed safely and no-one was hurt. Then we went back to his house for the review. In the footage we saw thousands of galaxies in the clip.

It was beautiful, especially the stars.

There were no toys in the house.

Koala girl gone wild

By Nayana

One day a girl was walking along the forest next to her dorm and she was trying to calm herself down in her secret spot she had since she was only five years old, it still smelt like sweet cinnamon. The girl, whose name was Ava, was so mad at everyone except for her friend, Aria but especially her roommates because ever since she moved to this new school everything was going downwards, sometimes she just wished she could turn into something calm and peaceful like a koala.

A few days later after Avas troublesome day, her and her roommates made up, and they decided to go out.

Stories from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

They went to a party the night before and due to that Ava woke up half an hour late. And so, her teacher Mr Davidson awarded her whole class a pop quiz. So, when she got back to her dorm, she was drained. Since she went to a magic school, there were only a few rules.

But one big one was to never say you wish for something you don't mean but without noticing she said
"I wish I had a nice calm life like a koala"

Then WHOOSH!

When Ava woke up the next day, she wasn't in her normal bed. She was in something that looked like a rain forest. Then, something felt like it was controlling her and she did a spectacular spin, and she transformed into a koala and wasn't as energetic as a light bulb anymore and was cool as an ocean breeze. All in 2 blinks of an eye she transformed.

The Expired Secret By Naomi

At the very bottom of a boring, old public swimming pool lies a deep, dark secret that no one wants to enter in their extraordinary mind. The pool that is supposed to be filled with old people (no offence) was as quiet as a pool that is supposed to be filled with old people (again, no offence). The secret is just in the water vent, well under the water vent. Well, IF you opened the vent, just IF, then you would find something that is not extraordinary... some fresh food, some normal food, some food, some not good food or packs and packs of rotten expired food. At this point I wouldn't even call it food!

Stories from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

Then I woke up, thinking it was a dream.

Guess what, you are wrong!
There were police and everything!

What do you think happened: a dream or it was real? For those of you who think it is a dream, you are wrong, but I wish you were correct! In the blink of an eye, I saw my parents, crying madly, thinking that I would never open my eyes again. They gave a boring speech about how they felt, but the real deal was when the police arrived.

The police made me comfortable and told me everything. From the King of Expired Food to the tiny hole that I managed to slip through, every word made my spine tingle. I asked if they arrested the monsters, and the police informed me that they were going to clean up the area under the public pool.

But I did not know what was going to happen to me.

I wanted to be the most powerful lizard in the world. I wanted to surpass Godzilla by far.

It was night time and my family said, "Good night," and fell asleep. I was dreaming of turning into the most powerful lizard that ever lived. I was in a middle of a fight in between Godzilla. The Sad Wolf and Unknown Invisible Girl By Laura Principal Weems opened the door wide, Ellianna looked at her and wondered if she was in trouble.

“Yes, Miss? Something wrong?” Ellianna looked at her with a worried expression.

“No darling, just your new roommate!” she smiled warmly. Ellianna looked at her as if she had murdered someone.

Principal Weems yelled, “Come in, Agness!” Agness came in. She was a girl with a pencil in her hair, and wearing a blue, green cardio dress. She smelled like lilies. Principal Weems left. Agness looked at her again, Ellianna saw the lights stop and she freaked out.

Ellianna grew hair as stinky as trash, she went from blonde to as grey as a moustache now. Instead of smelling like cherries, she smelled worse than sweat. Agness looked at her, expressionless.

Clissold Park Turns into the Biggest Trampoline Park

By Rowin

Clissold Park looks like one of the best parks ever.

It is very fun because if you go there, there's a leisure centre with a big slide and also a swimming pool. The wild animals—like goats, chickens, and llamas—have been chewing all the grass, and the park smells like poo... but it's still the best.

The four animals chewed grass, and the transformation
STARTS—YAY, WHOOO, YEAHH!

In this transformation, I can now spawn magical trampolines all over the park. And on these trampolines, you can do backflips like iShowSpeed or Darren Watkins Jr.

Stories from Holmleigh's Young Pirates

There's a shining light that shines in your eyes and makes you invisible, and the smells are even better—like perfume.

There are now woken-up animals. The trampolines are so loyal and kind.

I created this enormous park for charity so people can live better. There are 67 million people that raised 67 quattuillion.

A massive slide turned into a smooth rainbow cloud that a kangaroo tried—and loved it. The sound of music was so loud, nice, and relaxing.

The Hippogriff

By Munira

I was walking in the park with my friends in the bright yellow sun.

One of my friends, Mina, was pushing me on the swings so high that I felt like I could fly. My other friend, Jana, was doing complex gymnastics right in front of me. But then, right at that moment in life, when I thought life would finally be perfect for once, and not that the answer would always be no... Suddenly, sharp talons started to grow. Wings sprouted out of my back, feathers started to poke my skin, and my eyes had a glare that could turn someone into stone.

My friends screamed "You are a Hippogriff!"

I tried to calm myself, I thought of bunnies, but they weren't helping at all. They were pacing around the park, I signalled them to shush. All of a sudden, I started to fly. I yelped in fear. My friends jumped on my back. And now we are very far from home, and we are finding an antidote to turn me back into a human.

The book is very glowy, and shines like shiny stars; it enlightens the library and gets everyone to pay attention to it. Did you know that this book has over one hundred pages? People can't stop reading it and fighting over it.

When the book opened, it suddenly turned into its own globe. All of a sudden, it made a magical noise. People can't stop looking at the book, and in addition the book smelt very curious and suspicious.

Jaw dropping. The people in the library were reading the book, but they got stuck and they couldn't escape. The people in the library felt scared, terrified, petrified, horrified and worried because they didn't know what to do. The book had a restaurant where people go to eat, and it also had a supermarket where people buy food to eat.

It was very interesting how the book had grown into a whole world.

Finally, I was off the bus, and I saw an electronic, green and shiny bus, so shiny the bus almost blinded my eyes.
I was very worried going there. I had to run backwards, not believing I was able to do this.

"Why am I doing this?"

"Is this a mistake?"

"Probably."

"So why am I doing this?"

I stopped running backwards like a petrified deer, running across the woods.

I bonked my head. Then I remembered something.

"Make it so that you look at the bus. If it is black, I'm probably in shelter. If it is red, I can be blind in probably about 4 hours. If it is white, I will be blind."

I turn over. It's black.

Before I opened my eyes, the bus disintegrated into particles.

And it turned into a very new, H.E.N.R.Y. 9000. My clone hated me so much he kept punching me in the face. I was. I scared. Scared I. I.....

“Wait, how can you fly?”

I was in a video game.

“And why is my voice glowing?”

AI FOOD By Helathie

So, once there was a pizza cooking in my oven, a pepperoni and cheese pizza. And when I went to the toilet, the pizza started moving around in the oven. After I had got out of the toilet I saw a pizza standing on my kitchen floor. “Ahh!” I screamed with a scared expression. But the pizza was just standing there staring at me.

“Ahhh!” I screamed, with tears in my eyes, “please don’t eat me!”

“Fine,” the pizza said, “but you have to do something for me.”

“I will do anything” I said.

“We are going to go all around the world to find the people who eat pizza and kill them.”

I looked shocked and I needed a way to neutralize that weird walking, talking pizza. So, when it fell asleep, I crept up to it and took a big bite out of its head; it tasted so good. Then I called my friends round to my house to have a pizza party. And then the pizza woke up and screamed.

One of the police said to me, “what did you put in that pizza?” I said I put extra cheese. “Where did you get that cheese from?” asked the policeman.

“Tesco”

The policeman froze.

“What happened?” I said.

“There is a man putting things in cheese at all the Tesco’s in the world. And then your pizza turns into an AI human.”

“Awww,” I said. “That pizza tastes soo good!” I said.

SAXOPHONE EXPLOSION

By Ezraï

One night, I was at Ronnie Scott's and they were playing really nice music. Eventually, I got hungry and wanted a burger, so I went to the burger stand. But when I tried to buy the burger, the server said I didn't have enough money. So, I checked my bank account and it said £0.00. WHAT? Oh, now I remember. The PS5 cost £500, plus £25 for PlayStation plus. So, I had to beg for money and all I got was a "no".

I got my saxophone out, but it felt a bit heavier than usual. Suddenly, money started coming out of it. Everyone started screaming! I was so confused. It was basically enough to pay for my ticket for the concert and that burger! People were barely interested in the orchestra anymore. All they cared about was the money that came out of the saxophone.

Just when things couldn't get weirder, the saxophone exploded into a £50 note! I was shocked. Everyone came running at me - they were all fighting over the money. There was one person who was sleeping, even with all the noise. I wished I could sleep like him, but unfortunately I couldn't.

At last, all the people grabbing notes felt bad and gave me money to get a new saxophone. But of course, I had to get my burger first.

Suddenly, out of nowhere, the dog woke up—and saw that she was a human! She had wavy hair like the wavy ocean. She was grateful because her dream had come true.

The mom and dad came in and saw that the dog was a human. They were happy, and the dog was relaxed because they didn't kick her out. It was important that the family knew, because then they could be happy too.

When the whole family was there, the mom said, "I will call you Poppy—as in the poppy flower."

Poppy smiled. "Thank you," Poppy said—her first words.
What do you think happens next?

The Midnight Cat By Charlotte

As my partner sweated like crazy, I asked her “Are you ok?” She normally has short black hair glowing like the sun and a pink glowing hair band pulling her hair back. Her skin felt like a soft white polar bear.

As fast as a flash, her body jiggled like crazy. I was worried like a person in an earthquake. Then, black fur sprouted and she took the formation of a cat.

Just as the day could not get stranger, she looked around and jumped on to my lap. She was softer than anything. She ran away and she was so fast it felt like I was chasing a cheetah, but she disappeared in a blink of an eye.

Netherite armor, so we had to make a cool Redstone contraption. When we were done, we flicked the lever but it went wrong.

Me and Sean managed to pearl away but my dad got stuck in the explosion. Soon, he turned into a CHATGPT AI robot. He was super clever and intelligent. We also needed some quartz, so we went to the nether. When Sean was swapping his armor, he got hit with lava by a Piglin we thought had died. I was about to cry when he emerged out as a Blaze Demon.

Next, we needed to get more Elytras. Then we went to the end, and we ran out of food so I got Chorus Fruit and I ate it suddenly. I turned into an Enderman after getting Shulker shells, we went through our end portal but when we got to the other side we were in the real world. THE HARD ROCK By Ifrah

One day I was sleeping in my bed. It was very soft, and my blue walls were like the sea — it was very calm.

Stories from Queensbridge's Young Pirates

THEN all of a SUDDEN it was so cold, like the wall had ice on it. For some reason it was like I was outside in the snow. Then it started to smoke. The walls were turning black, then...

I felt weird. My leg and arm were turning black. Then I turned into a BLACK CAT. It was shocking. I didn't know what to do.

“What did I do? I'm going to be a black cat with green eyes for my whole life— can I go to school? I hope not,” I said in shock.

I looked in the mirror. I was about to cry. I bounded down the staircase. Then I saw food and ate a big bag. I'm not going to lie, it was such a big bag, it was shocking.

Then I felt less hair. I could stretch my legs now — also my arms. Then I realised I was back.

“YES, YES, I'M SO HAPPY I'M BACK TO MYSELF! NOBODY IS GOING TO STOP MEEEE! I THINK I KNOW WHY I WAS A BLACK CAT — because I was scared of my dream!” I screamed so loud that even my neighbour heard me.

Arsenal Fancy Chair turns into a Football! By Arman

The football chair was as blue as a Chelsea shirt. It felt as comfortable as a white, peaceful cloud. And there was a concealed chocolate bar under the chair.

It felt nervous, and then there was an earthquake, the cups from the kitchen were falling. The earthquake caused a loud vibration; it felt like a lion roaring.

Stories from Shoreditch Park's Young Pirates

Magically, the soft, comfortable chair was turned into a circle round ball! The masterful ball turned into a strong ball. There was mayhem in my room. It was outrageous, my chair turned into a football.

The football said to the Literacy Pirates, "Hello, my name is Football. I do not have an age! My football is the best, it is powerful. Do you want the football?"

The football was glowing up to Spain. The gleaming gold on the football was shining. The football chair button was gone and turned into a football! The population of people hankered for the football and I felt buzzing. The ball went to Spain and scored a hat trick!

The Blue Chair By Messi

The chair was really comfy. The person that was sitting on it was Jack. He said it was so comfy. He felt like he was dozing into space. After that he heard his teacher say Jack over and over again. Baby blue was the colour of the chair, and it was a rocking chair.

The rocking chair was wooden. It is so comfy, you can rock yourself. The chair was immaculate. After that a person walked past Jack and said, 'Oh it's Jack's chair.' Jack woke up and looked down. He saw his chair was a football. He looked back up and he fell.

My cat Nalah turns into a tiger By Adeena

Two weeks ago, my cat Nalah turned into a tiger. It all started when we were at home, me and my big sister Asha and my friends Neveah, Anjola, Hannah and Lescheney. So then, Nalah started to dance with us, doing TikTok dances. By the way, Nalah is half Bengal and half something else, but I can't remember.

Anyway, Nalah's fur is soft. She is grey, black, white and she has a little bit of orange on her belly. She smells like my mum.

Suddenly, it turned pitch black! Everyone started to get ready to go to bed. We were having a sleepover and we all went to bed.

5 hours later Nalah went to bed. Secretly, she turned into a tiger.

The next day, we all woke up and Naveah said "What happened?" to Nalah. Anjola came to tell Lescheney, then Lescheney went to tell me. Then I went to go tell my big sister Asha went who to go tell Hannah.

And Nalah said "Don't be scared!". I said "Come on guys, don't be scared". Nalah said "Come and jump on my back, and let's go to Disneyland!". My sister said "Come Then Nalah said "Never mind, let's go to Jamaica instead!". Then the next day we were in Hawaii! I said, "Nalah! Why are we in Hawaii?" Nalah said "It's magic!" and then Lescheney said "Come on guys, let's have fun!".

THE MAGIC FROSTING

In my hangout, we were doing karaoke. Before anyone could blink ... Stormy and Kota turned into a cute but small pink plant.

So, me and Nevaeh put a small watering can on their Hello Kitty leaves.

"Ohhh girls your heart cupcakes are ready!" my mum said. BUT SHE COULD NOT KNOW THEY WERE PLANTS.

So, we had to lie that they were in the bathroom washing their hands and taking mirror pictures. Nevaeh and I decided that we were going to give them our delicious small pink, cupcake frosting.

THE HELLO KITTY KITCHEN

Hi I am Nevaeh!

Before, my mum's kitchen was luxurious, white, plain and lots of cheap vegetables adding colour. It wasn't ...

Suddenly, out of nowhere I felt suspicious as my nose was aloft with a bad smell.

The kitchen smell was like nasty fish as the white, cloudy, puffy smoke turned to perfect pink smoke.

My lovely mum came in, looked around her new kitchen which had magically turned pink and sparkly like a diamond. There were hello kitty patterns all over the floor and the ceiling!

My mum smiled a big smile, huge like a banana because I smiled. But I knew deep inside of her heart she missed her old kitchen.

“I will eat you!” screamed the cookie monster. He began

"Yeah... how do you know?" asked Gloria.

"Well, Whitka shares some of his magic, so that's why you can transform. It should've worn off by now," exclaimed Dr. Worry.

"GET HIMMMMM!!!" shouted Gloria.

Once upon a time there was a happy family. There was a dad that was ugly and had a long beard and his wife is pretty. They had 2 children. 1 liked reading, the other one liked playing football. They lived next to a Volcano. One day, the dad went to the shop but out of the corner of his eye he spotted a section that was closed, he felt curious, so his body dragged him to the section. All of a sudden he said “I feel weird, I think I forgot to shave my beard,” but he didn’t know that he was now a frog!

So he hopped home and then he said “Is the floor jumping?” when he saw some police. One hop, and the police started grabbing him and putting him in a cage.

The owner of the barn had seen a transformation of a beautiful brown horse with amazing amethyst eyes to a sky-blue horse with crystal diamond eyes (everything the horse bites becomes a diamond, but if he bites a person, they will be 10x denser. Sharp as a megalodon's teeth, do practically nothing but a scratch).

The owner jumped in glee and made the horse bite the sofa and crystallization began...

An idea struck the owner's head like a lightning bolt! If he killed the horse, he could get inside its body to find what caused this crystallization. Then he can get the diamonds from his body, sell them, and get rich. So that is what he did - he planted a trap and turned his plan into reality!

But he checked up on the horse...it was as brown as wood; the spell had left its body.

TEN TREE – TRANSFORMATIONS BY Neriah

a plane to London [Essex], it began to rain slowly, with bright red roses, fresh red apples, and a lovely blue tit. The birds collected long sturdy wood from the ground to make a nest. Soon baby birds hatched from their eggs, and the mother bird was singing beautifully.

Anna was living like a tree once more; she was never able to move but stood tall all day and night. Anna felt trapped and worried - she didn't want to get cut in half by a wood carver. But there was still hope in her.

The day a boy wished he was an ocean By Benjamin

I woke up and brushed my teeth. I reflected and said to myself "What a strange dream I had." My dream was about my brother becoming the Pacific Ocean. I hurried into his room and expressed my thoughts, and he replied, "That could never be me".

Suddenly, I am now in space and no longer in my brother's room. I am completely shocked and confused. I feel a strange feeling like my senses are acting up, as if something fast, scary, horrifying or confusing is happening. I then look to my right and see a shop, and I think to myself "Why would there be a shop in space?"

Stories from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

The shop is a few yards away and I walk up to it quickly. I ask the shopkeeper what he is selling. He says, "I have boats, shoes, food, snacks, candy, juice drinks, smoothies, ice creams, and self-warming coats with infinite air that come with masks."

An idea comes to mind. If I could just use enough velocity and accuracy, I can use the boat to get to the ocean and wear the coat, but I would have to spend £1,267.11p! When I get to the ocean, it has eyes like my brother. He then speaks "WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE BENJI?"

As I am about to answer, I'm back on my bed! I then realised I was in another dream. I was very relieved because it was very confusing, weird and gross. I went to my brother's room to tell him my dream and once again, I was back in space...

Now, I can see a message in the sky: the only way to return to your dimension is reliving your life, working with NASA, and then stepping on the moon. Then you will go back to your brother's room.

I am speechless. I scream and say, "Noooooooooooooo!" I wonder why I cannot say anything. It's because I am a BABY. I cry as a baby.

By Michael

At the park, there was a transparent blue water bottle, and right next to it was a local power plant. A member of staff dropped a failed experiment made to cure illnesses into the water and the acid touched the water bottle, and it unknowingly caught a mutation. Angrily, the raging water bottle sought revenge upon those who kicked him or pushed him that day or in the past in rage, it went from one building to another and in one swipe it broke ten buildings! It grew strong veiny arms that looked stronger than a Greek God! Aggressively, the bottle stood on a car, then the water bottle was already heading for the Townhall until Tom – yes, the guy that dropped the acid on the bottle - called the strongest man in the world who came and used a crane to throw the water bottle in a river, finally they did it! From that day on Tom never messed with chemicals, but somewhere in the waters the water in the bottle was still fresh and now he seeks revenge.

Snape By Maddie

Snape is boring—like paint drying. That was the consensus among his students.

Stories from St Pauls with St Michael's Young Pirates

However, a few brave (or perhaps just bored) souls decided to investigate the truth about their potions master.

First, they started with the senses, documenting their findings on a Magical Transformation Splurging Sheet.

The Five Senses of Snape

Smell: He smells like an old, musty toilet. And that, they decided, was putting it mildly.

Sight: He “saw too worthily.” What this meant, no one was quite sure—but they agreed he always looked like he was judging you.

Hear: He heard screaming and snoring. This led to a brief debate: was he hearing the students, or was he the one doing the snoring?

Touch: Snape was fiddling with his wand. The image of him nervously twirling it between his long, pale fingers was unsettlingly vivid.

Taste: He can taste lions in the air. This was the most baffling entry. Perhaps it was a secret potion ingredient? Or maybe a very deep-seated, unusual fear.

THE BODY SITUATION!!!

By Nyla

It's 2AM in the morning. Michelle snuck over to Kesh's house to go on the same bus and to eat at the same time. Meanwhile Kesha is snoring herself out, the alarm went off at 4AM. She got up super quick. 3 hours later Kesha and Michelle were on their way to school but before they went to school, they swapped bodies unexpectedly!

As they floated up into the polluted air they swapped bodies, they fell back down while they did a twist and turn in the air. Nobody, and I MEAN NOBODY, knew what just happened.

“What just happened?” Asked Michelle.

“Well, I don't know, I DON'T REMEMBER EITHER!!!”
Shouted Kesha.

“WAIT, MICHELLE, WHY DO YOU LOOK LIKE ME?!”

“I DON'T KNOW! AHHHH!!!”

When they finished the transformation, they...
GLOWED!!! People looked at them like they were crazy.

“WHAT YA LOOKING AT, KEEP IT MOVING!!!” Michelle shouted at the people. They tried to practice being each other. They finally got it, and they went to school.

They finally got to school, and they tried to act as each other, they really made things awkward and it put their friends off. And they were worried that people might find out that they swapped bodies.

The whole day, the friends tried to act normal. BUT, they couldn't hold the secret anymore. They assumed that they had done something. So, when they got home, they said it was a total disaster. And now they are never going to school again.

After a few hours, their bodies swapped back, and they lived happily ever after!

THE DAY A BOY BECAME A SPIDER

By Marlon

One day I was at Literacy Pirates doing my work and then suddenly I heard a spine-chilling shriek! I turned my head to see ...GARY BECOMING A SPIDER!

My heart dropped to my knees as he grew eight legs and six inches of hair ON HIS BODY in the most gruesome and agonising pain imaginable. But when he grew ten eyes, I was the first person to go and evacuate the building, and everyone else followed me while he crawled on the ceiling to chase us.

As soon as he reached us, the government came to save us and fortunately he was soon trapped by police cars; they tasered him and brought him to scientists to bring him back.

The luckiest chick By Baiza

The chick could hear oil crackling. He can see some people ready to eat him. But the chef was looking at him adoringly – the chick felt super happy and happy that someone was looking after him.

The workers of the restaurant tried to take the chick and cook him – but the chef said, “what are you doing with my chick, leave him alone!”

The chef hugged the chick and kissed him on the forehead.

What a lucky chick!

I TURNED INTO A SINGING PANDA

By L'Kiera

As I was walking around a bamboo tree, some black and white fur started to come out of my body. My furry legs were coming out of me and suddenly I turned into a panda. I was as clean as a window. I was a bit petty, but I was as pretty as the sun. I was as hopeful as the sky, and I fiddled so much like I was a cat. I loved eating ice cream and my appetite changed to it because it was also really, really cold, like the sea. I was the pettiest panda that has dribbled so, so much and I felt as tiny as a mini-fridge standing in front of me.

When I saw a microphone, I went to grab it and started to sing karaoke with it. I started to sing and dance with my friends, dancing to the beat of the music. I was so hungry that I had to get more bamboo sticks. I was singing happily on the sunny field. In the end I turned into a professional karaoke singer who was a panda.

THE CHAIR EVOLVING...

By Keon

It looked like a normal, wooden chair, normal and creepy. It was in the room at the back of the house. I heard a squeaky noise when someone sat on it, but it got moved to the front of the house because they wanted to sit on it.

When someone sat on it, it grew hair, messy hair, green like a frog. When someone sits on it, it happens, it grows a new body part. In the house this happens every time someone sits on it, it grows these human features.

When it starts, it turns pale and glowstick eyes start to form. Everybody gets scared, someone else sat on it, it grew an arm, legs and a nose, to everybody's astonishment!

It got more limbs the more people sat on it. It got multiple legs, arms, and eyes. It smiled in happiness, everybody became terrified.

They see it and run, but it looks friendly, so someone sits on it! It got taller, faster, and stronger, it ran at them at full speed. Jumping and running. It broke free out of the house, and free!

Nobody sees it again without warning, nobody sees it again...

TEN TREE – TRANSFORMATIONS BY Neriah

A girl named Anna, took a visit to the romantic

rainforest in Brazil, her golden-brown hair grew into leaves, her long pointy nose turned into a rusty, old trunk, and her feet became the roots. Once Anna took a plane to London [Essex], it began to rain slowly, with bright red roses, fresh red apples, and a lovely blue tit. The birds collected long sturdy wood from the ground to make a nest. Soon baby birds hatched from their eggs, and the mother bird was singing beautifully.

Anna was living like a tree once more; she was never able to move but stood tall all day and night. Anna felt trapped and worried - she didn't want to get cut in half by a wood carver. But there was still hope in her.

[Anna had learnt what it means to be in nature].

We were arguing at the beginning.

Our cocoa butter became our potion.

Our names changed, too. Her name was Mylia and my name was Aylia.

The Mischievous Dog By Alicja

One gloomy morning my mum and I were out on a calm walk. We ended up stumbling near our favourite Humble Crumble shop. She was walking her puppies (her babies).

My mum is a crazy dog lady, so when we were out shopping, she obviously had to get something for her dogs. My mum chose to eat her sweets now. A few minutes later, she felt weird. She started to get round eyes, a wet nose, her legs and arms shrunk, and she started walking on all fours. Her tailbone turned into a real tail and a pom-pom appeared on her tail. Black fur appeared everywhere on her. She was a poodle!

She ran around chasing her tail! She finally went into the delicious Hansel and Gretel sweet shop. Jumping into soft strawberry candy floss, she found some sushi and ate all of it in just one mouthful. Sushi is my mum's favourite food, and dogs hate sushi! The sushi magically transformed my mom back to her normal human form... BUT SHE CAN NEVER EAT SWEETS AGAIN!

67 Statues By Anas

One day, everyone got bored of the same statues that they had had for years. Social media went viral, as massive as the Indian Ocean. No one knew what it meant. The news confessed why social media went viral, it was a 67.

Everyone was warned to be proactive instead of waiting around. People wanted 67 for their statues. People had an idea. When it was 6 o'clock or 7 o'clock the statues moved and spoke and said "6.....7....." All the statues in the world transformed into 67. The King announced that there was going to be 67 around the world. Some people lost their old statues and didn't like 67. The 67 statues had diamonds and they sparkled. The old statues crashed down – BANG! The old statues popped.

Disastrous EARTHQUAKE! By Kerim

In the middle of a peaceful family trip in Turkey, whilst quad-biking, a cold-hearted earthquake hit! Panic spread quickly, chaos erupted rapidly, and everybody squashed into a bunker. A few hours later, the bunker magically turned into a swimming pool. Everybody was squashed together like sardines, panic spread quickly again and people were fainting. They all magically became dwarves and got rescued in a bucket. The rescuer gave them expired food to become a normal size again. They drank apple juice and partied in the ruins of the buildings and shops.

The Toothbrush Incident By Sufyan

My brother walks around the house always looking for food. But suddenly, out of the blue, his stomach started to rumble and tumble and his face started turning into a light to dark shade of blue. His body stood still as the tip of an arrow and his hair started to turn into hundreds and hundreds of small mini bristles, and he finally transformed into an electrical toothbrush, standing tall and still like glue.

His only way to communicate was to vibrate—just like the toothbrush was made to. My brother was kind of scared by how he couldn't talk, and he started vibrating non-stop. I had enough, so I finally snapped.

After my rage hour, I finally had an idea. My friends told me about a mysterious wizard at the end of the road. So, I went down the road with my brother and knocked.

“Excuse me, Mr Merlin, are you home?” I asked.

Stories from William Patten's Young Pirates

Someone finally answered the door. "Hello, little child, do you need something?" he asked.

I told him that my brother had transformed into a toothbrush, so I asked him if he could work his magic—and he of course said yes.

So, he finally, at once, said his magical spell: "Turn this big boy into a fairy that flies into the air and comes back down."

As he said that, my brother's hair became messy again. His skin became pale again, and he became his normal self again.

Mr Merlin asked us, "Money I need?" He needed his money—but guess what? We didn't have any money. So as soon as we could, me and my brother ran and ran as fast as we could, and it seemed he started to chase us.

We ran into the nearest cinema and we went into a movie room called "You Can Run But You Can't Hide."

Me and my brother started to duck under different seats, and Merlin finally rushed in shouting, "WHERE ARE YOU LITTLE INSECTS?!"

As soon as he said that, everyone told him to stop shouting and told him to shush. So, he quickly apologised and continued to look for us. As he bent down to look, my brother pushed him and he fell into a seat—and it closed on him! So we laughed and ran home.

But we didn't have keys, so we had to turn back around and go from the back. He gave me a leg up and I jumped over the fence. I tried to pull my brother, but Merlin grabbed his foot and didn't let him go.

So my brother took his shoe off and threw it, and then we finally jumped over the fence. We hid under the bed, and when we thought he was gone, we went downstairs and we went on the PS5 to game together—like we always used to!
