

Luke 6:31-38

<http://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Luke%206:31-38&version=NKJV>

Like Father...

... like son. You probably know this saying. Apply it to today's passage, in which Jesus explains to His disciples how they should act towards other people.

Can your neighbours and friends, your colleagues or school mates, your parents or bosses see in your Christian life how your heavenly Father is?

In order to live what the Lord Jesus says to you today, you don't need a big wallet, but a heart that beats for Him.

Don't be discouraged if most people around you act in a completely different way. Maybe there are even those among them who call themselves Christians. Just remember: There will be a "great reward" for your faithfulness (v35)!

48. What do sinners do also?

49. What should a disciple of the Lord Jesus do in addition to that?

Those who give can't lose!

[illegible]

48. They love those who love them. They do good to those who do good to them and the y lend to those from whom they hope to receive it back (vv32-34). In addition to that, disciples of the Lord Jesus should love their enemies. They should do good to all men and lend without expecting anything back (v35).