Completion, Production & Pressure Control Services

Our highly skilled production testing personnel conduct the supervised flow of a well while separating gases, fluids and solids. The flow data (pressures, rates, temperatures) collected provide a comprehensive view of the reservoir characteristics allowing operators to evaluate the deliverability and sustainability of their assets. We offer comprehensive production tests which provide accurate and invaluable data utilized in analyzing the formation for future considerations such as facility sizing, pipelines, overall well performance and life expectancy. Our equipment maintenance program ensures all equipment is third party inspected and recertified annually, guaranteeing quality equipment gets delivered to location every time.
