

Developing a Spiritual Profile of People in Your Mission Field

What do they believe?

About themselves? About the world? About God?

What do they value?

Both tangible and intangible

What makes them angry or grieved?

What roles do people play?

Professionally? Socially?

What kind of relationships do they value or enjoy?
How would you describe their relationships with family and friends?

How would you describe their worldview?
*What shapes the way they interpret events, etc?
Experience? Cultural norms? Knowledge and learning? etc*

What are, or are likely to become, their idols?

What defeaters do they believe?
"Since I believe ... is true, therefore the gospel can't be"

What are the implications of this spiritual profile for gospel ministry in this region?