Data Protection Act

The 1998 Data Protection Act defines your rights as an individual in relation to the information held about you and how it may be used.

CSSC takes its responsibilities in respect of data protection very seriously and takes the utmost care when using data related to members. The most important reason for holding the information that you have provided, is to process your application for assistance. CSSC needs to keep your data on a computer and in paper files for this purpose. In exceptional circumstances CSSC may need to share some information with a third party, but this will only be directly connected with your application for sponsorship and to inform the consideration process. Any information shared will be kept to the absolute minimum to resolve the point at issue. By way of example, this may be another sponsoring body or governing body of sport. The information we hold may be updated by yourself, or by a third party working on your behalf, at any time.

We may also use some of the information for accounting, audit, statistical or research purposes (e.g. to make sure CSSC is offering the right sort of services), but it may only be used internally within CSSC or under contract for use exclusively by CSSC. We will not disclose any of your information outside CSSC, other than as mentioned above, unless you have given us your prior consent.

We undertake to keep your information strictly confidential and to do everything we can to prevent the information being used in any unauthorised or unlawful way.

You also have the right to request a copy of the information we hold about you; we will provide all of this data except any that refers to another person.

If you have any queries about the use we make of your data, please contact CSSC on 01494 888439

I agree to the above use of my data:
