INTRODUCTION

The parent passport is an important means of communicating the scope of parental involvement achieved during the baby's care pathway and to provide continuity for parents and carers following their baby's transfer for care across the Network(s).

It is recognised that all units have differing care competency packages for parents. This document aims to provide support for units in understanding what parents and carers have previously achieved and enables them to continue to support that level of involvement within the constraints of current unit policies.

The parent passport remains the property of the parents, with photocopies being retained in the patient record at each hospital within which the patient has received care.
