Resort information

At 1800m Les Collons is the highest of the resorts linking into the Verbier ski area, which is the largest ski region in Switzerland with over 410km of pistes. Facing South and East, Les Collons has magnificent mountain views looking up the stunning valley of the Val d'Herens to the famous Matterhorn.

Les Collons boasts a couple of hotels, several restaurants, two supermarkets, some ski shops and a few good bars, but the real charm of the area is the feeling of traditional Switzerland with the larch forests, the chalets dotted over the slopes and the spires of churches in the quaint villages on the other side of the valley.

This is one of the most stunning views in the Alps, and visitors can enjoy a classic mountain village surrounded by alpine pastures and mountain peaks, while still within a short drive of the larger and more lively Sion and the famous Verbier.

Getting there

Les Collons is just 1 hour 45 minutes from Geneva and it is motorway all the way until the last 15 minutes' drive up from Sion.

Sion Airport, used primarily as a military base in recent years, will be trying out flights between London and Sion during February 2017, with flights going out every Saturday of that month.

La Cambuse

This excellent hotel and restaurant is the perfect place to stay during a visit, while the restaurant offers great food and a cosy Alpine atmosphere. The hotel has a piste-side location and stunning views across the valley, serving as a charming and very reasonably priced place to stay in the Four Valleys.

Le Bois Sauvage

Established by two seasoned Verbier chefs, who previously worked in the Farinet and the Richard Branson owned chalet The Lodge, Le Bois Sauvage has a sustainable approach to cuisine that sees menus filled with locally sourced ingredients and seasonal produce. The restaurant has stylish modern Alpine decor throughout.

Winter

Verbier is at the heart of 'Les 4 Vallées', the largest linked ski area in Switzerland with over 410km of piste and more than 90 lifts and railways linking the resorts of La Tzoumaz, Nendaz, Veysonnaz, and Les Collons. The resort is something of an expert's paradise, although beginner and intermediate skiers are also well catered for.

Verbier has some of the best, most extensive and varied off-piste in the world, while the Mont-Fort Glacier, which is the highest point in the resort at 3330m, has a challenging black piste from the summit. From the top, there are fantastic views all the way to the Matterhorn, Grand Combin and Mont Blanc. There are also testing runs down from the summit of Mont Gelé at 3023m.

Verbier's Swatch Snowpark at 2842m is the venue for Big Air competitions each season, and has jumps and rails for beginner to pro level riders. Even if you're only there to watch it is still a good place to hang out, with the music and BBQ area adding to the ambience.

Summer

Les Collons is a fantastic dual season resort, with plenty of trails for mountain biking and hiking. Lake Dix can be reached by taking a cable car from the foot of the dam, from which you can take a boat across the lake and admire the views, or hike across to the ski resort of Arolla.

Golf

Just a half hour from the resort sits the Sion Golf Course, overlooked by terraced vineyards and surrounded by the hills of Valere and Tourbillon, this course provides spectacular views and an almost Mediterranean climate; the region has 300 sunny days a year, making it a year-round golfing option.
