(please note that it will be from 12-8:30pm on 3rd August).

Reporting to: Contemporary Art Producer and Event Manager

About the event

Compton Verney, a registered charity, is an extraordinary place with a mission to make art, nature and creativity available to all. As an award-winning nationally accredited gallery, based in a Grade I-listed Georgian mansion amidst 120 acres of Grade II-listed Lancelot 'Capability' Brown parkland in Warwickshire, we have six permanent art collections alongside a schedule of thought-provoking evolving exhibitions and events both outdoors and in.

This year we will be hosting an incredible project called Luminarium, an interactive, colourful and inflatable space that uses light, air and architecture to create an immersive art experience for everyone in our grounds. Find out more - Arborialis \(architects-of-air.com\)

We are looking for volunteers who are interested in the arts and culture, event management, festivals, architecture, visual and graphic design and immersive installations to get involved and work with us to host it. The experience and expertise volunteers will gain through stewarding this internationally immersive art event with us will include working with the professional touring team, our in-house expert Contemporary Arts producer and Events Manager alongside finding out about what it takes to make an event like this a reality at a unique heritage site operationally. As a charity our events support the work we do and in order to make our events as accessible to as many people as possible, volunteers play a huge part in enabling us to host events like this and bring them to life.

About the role

Volunteers will be at the heart of the experience, and is central to the running of this event, facilitating its operations, visitor engagement. As a visitor facing role, volunteers will facilitate the enjoyment and safety of this immersive experience for people from all walks of life. Volunteers will need to work in a team of up to 10 volunteers, and they will see how Compton Verney works, how our producer brings the creative themes together but also how this company run their beautiful installation, learning about cultural events first hand.

Responsibilities

- Help to host this event by stewarding the spaces inside Luminarium, being flexible and open to completing a range of tasks and working in different locations.

Please note this role is purely voluntary and is not a legal form of employment with Compton Verney.

- Welcome and engage everyone to this immersive experience, facilitating great visitor experiences.
- Guide people through the immersive experience, providing information on the activities in the space, the event and site as a whole.
- Attend all training related to the role and commit to at least one of the above project commitments.
- Following and helping to enforce our policies and procedures.
- Actively supporting and implementing all health and safety procedure, whilst positively promoting Compton Verney.

Benefits of the role

There are so many reasons why you should become a Luminarium art volunteer producer:

- Gain live event skills and experience, learning directly from professionals within a cultural venue.
- Develop transferable skills such as communication, organisation and time management.
- Be part of a wider team, meeting and working with a variety of different people.
- Receive dedicated training from Compton Verney and the events artistic team.
- Be part of an incredible event which is international renown.
- Full use of onsite accessible facilities, including, toilets, free parking, break room facilities with tea and coffee within a beautiful landscape and 18th century house.
- Being part of an incredible immersive event for free, including the activities happening within the event.
- Incorporation within the overall volunteering programme at Compton Verney, including receiving updates and news from our mailing list, opportunity to get involved with other roles after the event, and invitations to staff and volunteer meetings and events.
- A volunteer pass to Compton Verney (subject to completing 3 days plus a training day with us), enabling you and up to 2 guests' free access to the site for a year.

Who we are looking for

We are looking for volunteers who:

- Are passionate about arts and culture, with an interest in events.
- Good English communication skills, and someone who enjoys talking with others.
- Friendly people who are team players and enjoy welcoming everyone.
- Willingness to learn and can proactively complete a variety of different tasks.
