

Welcome to Ape Bit

In Ape Bit you play an ape being chased by zombies -- the fast type, not the boring slow ones -- while trapped on an island surrounded by acid. Unfortunately, acid does bad things to apes that spend too much time in it.

The goal of the game is to survive for as long as you can. There is no winning, just more seconds appended to the time alive counter. To get the most time possible on the time alive counter, use the arrow keys to navigate Ape. Note that, for the sake of accuracy, we draw Ape without a tail.

Zombies don't like light, and will try to avoid street lights when they are on.

Bigger zombies are slower but less maneuverable. The number of teeth marks in the upper right of the screen is the number of lives you have. More and more zombies will climb out of the acid ocean with time. After being bitten by a zombie you will be invincible for a short period, during which Ape will cover his eyes.
