

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF HIRE SINGLE/OCCASIONAL HIRERS

The definition of a single/occasional hire are bookings that are not using the premises on a regular day and time.

The named hirer shall mean the person/organisation who is named on the booking form.

The premises shall mean all the areas agreed that form part of the hire.

General

1. A security deposit of £150 will be taken with each booking and will be returned within 14 days of the hire date, on the proviso that all terms and conditions of hire are adhered to. The hirer may incur additional charges for any damage, items missing, additional cleaning etc, that is not covered by the security deposit. Complaints of excessive noise regarding your particular hire may also result in the loss of your deposit.
2. Booking times must include any time required for set up and clear away.
3. Invoices must be paid in full, by the payment date stated on the invoice.
4. Hall hire charges will be reviewed annually and may change. The hire charge will be the charge that applies on the date of the hire.
5. Written notice of a minimum of 1 month is required before a cancellation is accepted.
6. Deposit MAY NOT be refunded in cases of late cancellation (less than 1 month)
7. Where a Deposit can be refunded, it will be returned within 14 days of the event.
8. Hire for teenage/young persons' celebrations may be accepted if the party is going to be a family function, or the adult/young person ratio is at least 1 adult to 10 young people.
9. The named hirer on the booking form is responsible, accountable and liable for all guests and party/function associates' behaviour and for ensuring the Terms and Conditions of Hire are adhered to. Inappropriate behaviour, under-age drinking, taking of substances or any anti-social behaviour, including excessive noise, is not allowed on the premises.
10. The named hirer is responsible for checking in and monitoring entry of invited guests and associates of the function from start to finish of the hiring period. No uninvited guests or members of the public should be permitted to enter the premises if there are no other bookings for the premises and the staff have vacated the premises. The hirer will ensure that the total numbers of attendees does not exceed the building's capacity during the hire period.
11. The named hirer must ensure that at least one named person is present within the building throughout the agreed hire period.
