6 Introduction to the programme

The BA (Hons) Graphic & Communication Design programme is a broad-based degree that introduces students to the role of the contemporary graphic designer. It encourages them to challenge the boundaries of visual communication, responding to a variety of internally and externally created briefs and self-initiated activities. It is vocationally focused and provides students with the skills and knowledge relevant to employment within the wide spectrum of the Creative Industries.

The programme is centred around the study of Graphic & Communication Design as a constantly evolving area of creative practice. Its purpose is to communicate ideas and messages using combinations of words and images that inform, educate, promote, persuade and entertain. As you can see from the structure below each module is colour co-ordinated according to Practical Skills (Orange), Professional Skills (Green) and Theoretical Skills and Rigor (Blue).

Working in a period of constant change, the philosophy of the programme is based upon the Graphic Designer as an essential part of the creative process. Its aims are to provide a learning environment where both the traditional core disciplines of the Graphic & Communication designer can be explored with rigour and integrity. Visual communication skills and principles connect with an exploration of digital media, contextual study, and business practice to prepare students for a life-long engagement with the Graphics sector as an applied creative practice.

The programme is delivered by a team of experienced staff and industry practitioners. The College and University Centre building is fully equipped with state-of-the-art design studios, iMac suites, computer workshops, photographic and postproduction studios and a traditional printmaking and book-making studio.

On completion of the course career progression routes include working as a graphic designer, freelance designer, working within the creative industries or developing on the academic route into an MA Programme or PGCE.

Module Overview (also see module handbooks)

Level 4 Modules

Typography: Design Projects

This module introduces the concept of typography and communication. It gives a basic understanding of the designer's role in the effective communication of messages. It explores the twin elements of idea generation and practical skills. Through a series of studio-based activities a range of skills are introduced as a means of addressing visual communication objectives. The module introduces students to research methodologies and an initial investigation into idea generation processes. It introduces specialist studio and workshop activity engaged with typography. The exploration is through a range of media and material which is encouraged throughout the module as the basis of the individuals' ability to communicate using word. It consists of the initial analysis of methods employed to communicate messages, meanings and information to a specified target audience. The design process is explained as a systematic method of structuring project work and explores techniques and approaches used for the construction of meaning. Students are encouraged to develop an individual approach to problem solving using visual thinking to express ideas and messages.

Digital & Photography

This module introduces the workshop environment to students as an opportunity for experimentation with digital tools and software. The focus of the module is on learning the basics of photography and digital applications. Workshops in camera handling, lighting strategies, the Adobe Suite including Photoshop, Illustrator and InDesign as well as knowledge on file formats, export formats and digital organisation skills will be delivered.

Contextual Influences 1

The contextual influences module is a major discipline within the programme delivery. The module underpins the students' creative work and has been specifically designed to provide a range of 'key' and 'transferable' skills. Students will develop key skills that are specific to graphic design, such as subject-specific knowledge and practices. Transferable skills will enable students to succeed in a wide range of academic and professional situations, such as the analysis and production of written work.

Print & Bookmaking Workshops

This module introduces workshop environments to students as an opportunity for experimentation with analogue and digital tools and software. The focus of the module is on 2D and 3D applications which aim to provide an overview of a variety of processes. Workshops in image making, printmaking, letterpress, zine making, book-making and digital activities can be engaged with.

Level 5 Modules

Branding: Design Projects

This module develops the student's understanding of branding and identity design. It investigates how branding can help communicate an expression of an individual's or companies perceived values. It explores how branding and identity can express a 'personality' for a client and audience within the marketplace. In this module, students, typically have the opportunity to work with visiting industry professionals who share working methodologies and processes and offer advice and guidance with a commercial insight through studio critiques. Formative practical exercises encourage a sense of experimentation and develop the student's ability to produce and implement design solutions in a contemporary commercial context.

Contextual Influences 2

During this module students apply a critical and contextual analysis to contemporary practice within graphic & communication design. Progressing on from Contextual Influences 1, students will now investigate how 'culture' is defined and interpret how meanings are expressed by media producers and received by consumers. Differing aspects of cultures and subcultures are considered. The module assesses how advertisers manipulate signs to 'create' needs and desires. Notions of identity, style, and issues of consumption are explored furthering student's knowledge from their initial introduction to contextual practice.

Narrative Storytelling

This module is concerned with narrative and visual storytelling, usually in response to written texts. It extends the experiences gained at Level 4 with the generation of ideas and their visualisation, whilst further developing the creative use of media, materials, processes and techniques. Students will create sequential narrative storytelling in a wide range of forms, typically in picture books, graphic novels, magazine and editorial spreads and screen-based narratives. The module also explores the combined elements of word and image, arranged typically, in editorial formats. Student's may decide to use photography, printmaking, illustration, digital drawing to showcase their narrative storytelling.

Professional Practice

The module relates practical and theoretical studies in graphic & communication design within a professional context. This is linked with practical design activities that prepare students for potential employment opportunities by developing a range of presentational and interpersonal skills that aims to facilitate personal career progression.

Level 6 Modules

Research Project

This module provides students with the opportunity to identify and investigate in depth, a topic related to the practice of graphic & communication design of particular interest and relevance to themselves. It also offers students an opportunity to set out the results of their research in a publicly accessible form, thus constituting an addition to knowledge about a particular area.

The research project is a progression of Contextual Influences 1 & 2, allowing a natural progression of analytical and critical skills, as well as academic writing. Further academic conventions will be adopted, and student's will have the opportunity to explore their own interest research field.

Independent Project

Traditionally, the role of the graphic designer has been associated with the communication of 'other peoples' messages or reacting to tasks placed before them by their clients. This module allows students to develop an air of stridency and rebellion; a desire to break away from the commercial demands of the marketplace and produce new, experimental, speculative, challenging and potentially entrepreneurial work.

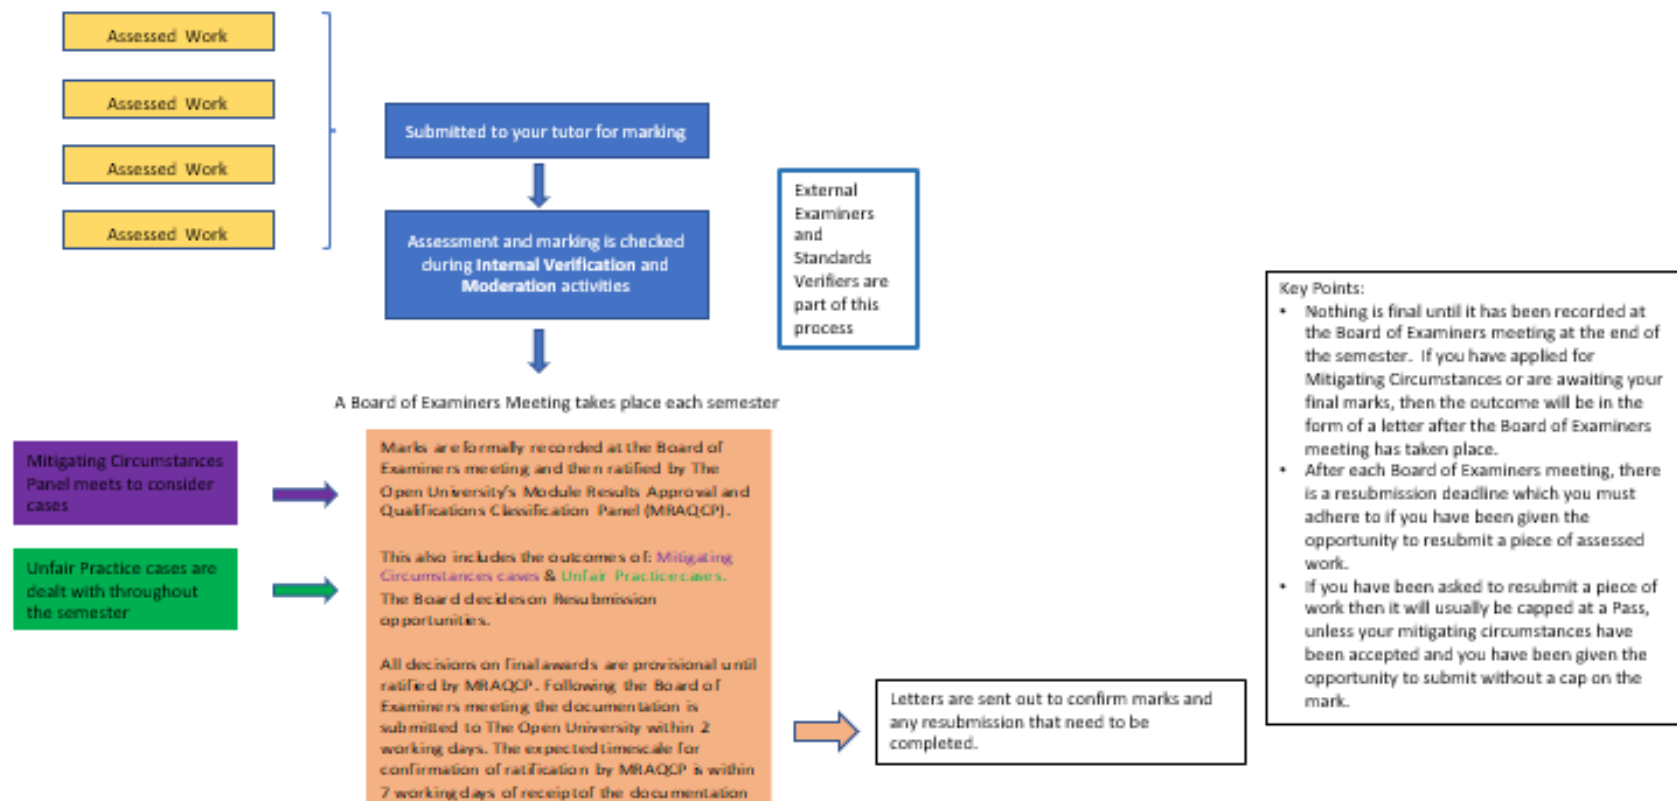

Creative Futures

The module is characterised by the series of presentations, portfolio workshops and surgeries conducted in liaison with the programme's industrial partners. These cover a breadth of subject specialisms across the spectrum of graphic design disciplines, with a focus on the wider context of its practice and how it functions within commercial, environmental and cultural contexts. Knowledge acquired from investigation into professional practice will be applied to Level Six project work and reflected upon. The module requires students to take responsibility for their own professional development. They are expected to identify and realise opportunities for career planning whilst managing the process of preparing for employment or postgraduate study.

Competition Briefs

It is anticipated that students will have developed individual areas of expertise within graphic and communication design. Students build their confidence from the Independent Project module with regards to self-management and autonomy as well as successful comprehension of understanding what is involved when writing and responding to a brief. This module offers students the opportunity to consolidate practical and theoretical experience applying a range of skills acquired across the programme. A key feature of this module is the student's opportunity to engage with national and international student design competitions and awards. The briefs will typically be in the form of a 'live' project with an industry partner or as part of a national or international design competition. Students work in depth, solving problems within a chosen area of specialism. There is a requirement to demonstrate the ability to select and use appropriate research, analysis and production methods leading to the creation of effective design solutions. The range of briefs allows for self-development in a preferred area of specialisation, or to expand, broaden the student's experience and inform design work in subsequent modules.

Role of personal tutor

Small class sizes mean our students receive more contact time with expertly trained tutors and receive outstanding student support both in sessions and outside of class.

Tutorials are a key part of the tutor-student relationship. They should help you to gain a closer understanding of your tutor's expectations of you and your coursework and help your tutor to gain an understanding of your feelings and progress. You can discuss your thoughts on your own development and your strengths and weaknesses, addressing them specifically to see what can be done about them.

Your tutor will clearly outline during induction how tutorials will be scheduled throughout the year, and most tutors will arrange one-off tutorials if you need to meet with them for a particular purpose (to discuss a particular assessment task, for example).

HE Students

Students will have regular opportunities to discuss progress with their allocated Progress Tutor. This will, ordinarily be 4 times per year - 1 at the start of the academic year, 1 towards the end of semester 1, 1 after the February Exam Boards and 1 towards the end of Semester 2. Part-time programmes include tutorial time before/after classes and/or electronic conversations. Students will also have access to the centralised programme of College Events activities.

1:1 Tutorials

The main purpose of the 1:1 tutorial is to ensure that students are successful at College and that they know how they are doing with their work/studies and what they need to do to improve. Careful progression planning, support and guidance including UCAS/ Careers/ Employability/ Target Grades also form an important part of the tutorial programme. Students will have regular 1:1 tutorials with their allocated Progress Tutor (usually at least once every six weeks).

Counselling and student welfare

There may be occasions during your time at college when you experience problems, feel under pressure and find it hard to cope. Our counselling and mental health service can help.

You Feel Anxious, Stressed or Worried

It is quite normal to feel anxious at the start of your course. You may have feelings of inadequacy or low confidence. These will generally subside as you discover what the course entails and what your strengths and weaknesses are. You may not notice it, but by the end of the year, you will see things very differently.

The College understands that students have personal and professional lives. You may be a parent, carer or grandparent, or have other caring responsibilities. You may have a part-time or full-time job. You may be a parent or carer, have a work-placement and a job! As your course progresses your workload will start to build up and you may feel that it is difficult to fit everything in around these other lives.

You may begin to worry about a topic or module/unit that you can't understand or a particular piece of assessed work that you are struggling to get to grips with. This is normal. Every student has one or two 'gremlins' that they struggle with. You may feel that your worry is silly or trivial, but it isn't. Sharing this worry with your fellow students or your tutor usually reveals that you're not the only one who's worried!

Please talk to your tutor about these feelings at any stage during your course during a tutorial.

- Further support is available from Student Services:
- Advice and guidance if you are struggling financially or need support with living costs
- Counselling with personal issues and problems (self-referral)
- Academic skills support if you feel that you need to develop your skills
- Mentoring if you are struggling to get organised or need some help with time management.

- We regularly post information to HE essentials to keep you informed and ahead

York College welcomes those of all faiths and none. It has a designated room 'Oasis' set aside for personal reflection and prayer. The College hosts a number of well attended 'Oasis' lectures exploring a range of ethical and spiritual issues.

Support for students with disabilities

Many students find that there are times when they need additional support at College. Please let us know if you want support because you have learning difficulties and/or a disability.

You can find out more about the kind of support the College can offer by asking for a copy of the booklet 'Able to Learn' or by arranging to talk to somebody about additional learning support.

If you have Dyslexia, or another specific learning difficulty, you can request a specialist assessment as you may qualify for access arrangements, e.g., 25% extra time, reader, laptop in exams. However, you are advised to declare this at the start of your course, and it must be your evidenced normal way of working.

Financial Advice and Support

https://yorkcollege.blackboard.com/ultra/courses/_32764_1/cl/outline

There is a commitment from York College to provide a £600 bursary for all eligible Higher Education students.

In line with OFS, the college prioritises students from groups who are under-represented in higher education or disadvantaged:

students with mental health problems, Specific Learning Difficulties and/or an autism spectrum disorder such as Asperger Syndrome carers

estranged young people

students from gypsy and Traveller communities refugees

care leavers
students living in a household under £25,000

You can get support with sorting out your student finance arrangements

If you are in receipt of DSAs and you are moving onto a top-up you need to arrange the transfer of your support to your new HEI or college. Changing course or university may mean that you need to have slightly different support in place, so you may have to have a top-up needs assessment. Ask about the HEI or college's disability advisor: they will be the best person to discuss this with.

Any student who needs financial support can also apply for hardship funds-see HE Essentials for more details

Guide to the Virtual Learning Environment (VLE)

The College VLE is Blackboard. There is a central HE Blackboard page which contains a course that is assigned to you as a student which has notices and regulatory information (HE Essentials). You will be sent a link and a welcome to this site in the first few weeks of the academic year and will receive updates throughout the year as new information is added. This page includes regulations, policies and forms that you will need as you go through your programme.

There is also a section of Blackboard that relates specifically to the BA (hons) Graphic & Communication Design programme. This contains course resources, assessment and other programme specific resources. You will be shown how to access this.

https://yorkcollege.blackboard.com/ultra/courses/_32764_1/cl/outline

Turnitin is an external system that checks your writing against millions of other pieces of writing including all others submitted through safe assign previously. It will highlight where there are matches with the other writing in its database and give you a match percentage based on the number and length of those matches. For example, a piece of work with a couple of small matches might return a percentage of 5%, but a piece of work with several large matches might return a percentage of 50%.

You will be required to submit all your written assignments through Blackboard, and these will then pass through Turnitin to be checked for originality and then for grading. Your tutor may use Turnitin to give feedback, including comments on your grade; why you received it; and what you can improve for the next assignment. Because this is hosted on Blackboard, you can access this feedback wherever you have an internet connection. However, your tutor will still expect to have tutorials with you to discuss your progress and to give you feedback on your assignments.

Matches will occur for common phrases that have been used by other writers and students, and also Turnitin may find a match where quote marks or referencing have not been used correctly.

You Have a Concern or Want to Make a Complaint

<https://s3.eu-west-2.amazonaws.com/server-asset-backups/york-college-assets/uploads/files/General-Regulations/Complaints-and-Compliments-Procedure.pdf>

If you have a serious issue with the College or your course, and need to raise your concerns, then you should:

Contact your tutor or another member of staff to discuss your situation. Discussing issues is the best way to resolve things before problems become serious and the College will do everything to find a solution where one is available.

If your issue has not been satisfactorily addressed at that stage, then you can register a formal complaint on the College website www.yorkcollege.ac.uk and download a copy of the complaints form. This is directed to the Quality Improvement Team for recording and disseminating as appropriate.

What happens next:

We aim to send you an acknowledgement letter within 3 working days of receiving the complaint confirming who will carry out the investigation along with contact details

Investigating staff aim to meet with you within 10 working days in order to investigate raised concerns.

Final response will be sent by letter within 20 working days of first receiving it. This is our target for all complaints. If we need more time to investigate, we will explain why and when you can expect our response.

Appeals

If you remain dissatisfied, you have the right of appeal, in writing to the College Principal, within 10 working days of the date on the final response letter being issued

The Principal or designated Deputy/Vice Principal (depending on who conducts the appeal) will respond within 10 working days and arrange an appropriate time to meet with you to discuss your appeal

An appeal hearing letter is sent within 10 working days of appeal hearing

After hearing your appeal, the Principal or Deputy/Vice Principal's decision will be final.

If you wish to appeal the decision as above, then this will then be referred to the awarding organisation/validating partner.

Cut-off Limits

The College cut-off is 3 months after the date of an incident to accept a complaint. The College is willing to consider exceptions only where a valid reason is presented, with clear evidence, that the complaint could not be made within the time limit.

Referral

The Office of the Independent Adjudicator(OIA) is an independent body who may review a complaint in certain circumstances. More information is available on the OIA website:

<http://www.oiahe.org.uk/>

The OIA will generally only consider taking a case after the awarding body/validating partners decision has been exhausted.

The Higher Education Funding Council for England (HEFCE) will only investigate certain issues, and only after the complaints procedure has been completed here at College. For more information, please see HEFCE's website:

http://www.hefce.ac.uk/reg/forstudents/Student_complaints/

Internet Searches

The internet is a wonderful resource with articles, videos, blogs and podcasts on every topic. However, it is also congested with social media traffic and lots of unsupported comment and opinion.

On one hand the internet is a great democratic space, with a universal opportunity for everyone with an internet connection to contribute to it. On the other hand – because it is so open – it is the place where people blurt-out unedited and unchecked ‘stuff’ that hasn’t been carefully and rigorously published. The ease with which anything can be published online means that the quality of the things you come across might vary dramatically.

Therefore, the main problem with online resources is knowing who has written what you are reading and how it has been produced. Authorship and quality can be a real issue, especially when you are thinking about trying to reference something in your written work. If the author or producer of the stuff you have found is difficult to identify, then you should be wary of its quality and how valuable it might be to you in your assessed work. A good question to ask yourself would be:

‘If I can’t easily find who has written this then is it completely credible...?’

Wikipedia

Wikipedia has its uses, but it is not designed to be an academic resource. It has articles about every topic that you can think of, with lots of interesting stuff, however, it simply provides information based on what’s available from other sources, just as a normal paper-based encyclopaedia does. The main difference is that anyone with an internet connection can contribute to Wikipedia, so that it offers articles on a wider range of topics, depending on its contributors’ interests.

“...the readers, not the encyclopedia, are ultimately responsible for checking the truthfulness of the articles [on Wikipedia]”
(Wikipedia’s ‘Wikipedia’ Page)

Wikipedia is really good if you want a quick read to gain an overview of a topic, but its real strength is that it provides you with a reference list. When you scroll down to the bottom of an article on Wikipedia you can see all the sources that have been used to put together the article. This can be a good starting point for your own research in preparation for an essay or written piece. Wikipedia itself, however, should not be listed or referenced as an academic source in your own work.

Online Resources

The Learning and Research Team are continually investigating new and credible online resources to support students and staff with their Teaching and Learning, we are frequently updating these on the Portals, where access to these resources can be found. Clicking on the HE box and then on your course will allow you to reach eBooks, online journals and magazines, audio and visual resources, databases and external websites and useful links.

eBooks

We currently have 3 platforms that provide access to a range of eBooks. Browns VLE hosts eBooks we as a team have purchased, therefore these books have been specifically requested by your tutors to support your course needs. Our other 2 platforms, ProQuest and Gale eBooks supply us with a varied collection of eBook material. All can be found on the

Online Journals and Magazines

Journal access can be very expensive if you are subscribing individually, so the access that the College has purchased for you is potentially very valuable. Check your course area on the Portal page to see what's available.

There should be a good selection of journals which are peer-reviewed and very worthwhile reading, from which you can find articles on a range of topics.

Newspaper Articles

Using the internet to search for newspaper articles is very easy as several newspapers now have an online version with a full archive. You might want to use newspaper articles if you're searching for commentary or different perspectives for a piece of writing.

Access is often free. However on Gale Research databases (Found on our Portal page) access to The Economist, Financial Times, The Times and The Independent historical archives can be found.

Open Educational Resources (OERS) And MOOCs

Institutions such as the Open University and other universities have shared some of their resources online for anyone to access. These tend to be good, as they are backed-up by research and based on good academic principles, and they are free to use.

MOOCs are Massive Open Online Courses and are an interesting way to learn independently. They are available on a wide range of subjects and topics and they are produced by academic institutions such as universities. You can't gain a qualification through this type of online learning but you can gain an insight into a specific aspect of a topic, or undertake part of a university's module.

Learning online usually means that you become part of a learning community with individuals from a range of countries and situations. This can be an interesting part of the learning, as you can gain access to a range of perspectives which might challenge your views and assumptions and help you to develop a critical outlook.

Equipment required to be provided by the student

Equipment and tools are provided for use on College premises, but we advise students to have a selection of essentials to enable progress through independent study time and to support post-graduation progression. Below is a suggestion, however not essential.

This is dependent on the skillsets/materials required to complete the major project:

Recommended Equipment:

Drawing / Painting Materials / Mixed Media Materials

Laptop or Computer

Adobe Creative Cloud

Any queries on buying equipment, please ask a member of the Graphic's team.

Don't forget to name all your equipment.

14 Assessment and progression regulations

https://s3.eu-west-2.amazonaws.com/server-asset-backups/york-college-assets/uploads/files/Assessment-Policy/Assessment_Policyv4.pdf

Assessment

The type of assessment, its weighting and its timing are approved through the Open University at the point of validation and also by the relevant External Examiner(s).

Where reasonable adjustments are required to be made to assessments i.e. for disability, this must also be approved by the External Examiner(s).

The programme handbook is updated annually to include up to date and approved assessment details (such as after minor modifications have been requested and approved). Submission dates are also published.

A viva voce is used as an assessment method on some programmes. However, the regulations also allow for a viva voce as an additional measure in some circumstances. This must be agreed by the Board of Examiners and the external examiner:

Exceptionally, viva voce examinations may be required by a Board of Examiners (with the approval of external examiners):

- (a) to confirm the progression/result status of a student;
- (b) to determine the result status of unusual or borderline cases;
- (c) when there is conflicting evidence from the various assessment components;
- (d) as an alternative or additional assessment in cases where poor performance in assessment is the result of exceptional circumstances verified through due processes.

Regulations for validated awards of The Open University

<https://www.open.ac.uk/about/validation-partnerships/about-ou-validation/regulations-validated-awards-open-university>

First Attempt (not a resubmission)

All written work must be submitted via Turnitin to check its authenticity and confirm its submission date. Where authenticity is doubted, the process detailed within the Cheating, Plagiarism and Other Forms of Unfair Practice Policy must be initiated.

The submission procedure for other assessment formats such as posters, plans, recordings etc. must be confirmed by the module tutor at the start of the module.

Late and Resubmissions

The penalty for late submission (without registered Extenuating Circumstances) is a deduction of 10% for every working day that the work is late (excluding weekends, Bank Holidays and College shut down dates). The mark may be reduced down to the Pass mark but no further. On the seventh day, the submission is refused and a mark of zero must be applied.

The next working day following a deadline begins one minute after the time of the agreed deadline. For example, for a submission deadline of 16.00 on Friday 13th, the next working day begins at 16.01 on Friday 13th.

Discretionary Extensions

A discretionary extension of up to five working days may be granted which must be documented by the award leader on the student/group's Promonitor record and Markbook with a clear justification. The extension gives an exemption from the late penalties ordinarily imposed up to the date that the extension expires:

The extension may be applied to an individual student where circumstances warrant, for example, a short-term health issue or urgent family or work commitment.

The extension may be applied to a whole group, for example, where adverse weather or an/other external factor/s have had a negative impact on the time available for the teaching to be delivered in the scheduled way.

If work is submitted after the expiry date of the extension then normal late penalties will apply.

If a student is experiencing very serious or severe circumstances which would not be mitigated by a discretionary extension then the arrangements for Extenuating Circumstances should be applied.

Extenuating Circumstances

The University Centre's policy and process for registering Extenuating Circumstances (ECs) are outlined in the college's assessment policy and suspension of studies procedure.

All applications for ECs will be considered by the ECs Panel which meets prior to the Board of Examiners meeting. The Panel's recommendation will be reported to the Board of Examiners.

A successful application for ECs usually allows the student to submit the assessment as a first attempt at a nominated later date and receive the full marks available. If required, a subsequent resit opportunity is allowed.

If a student has ECs applied, but does not submit at the resit opportunity or fails the resit attempt and does not request to have further Extenuating Circumstances taken into account, then this first submission attempt will be recorded as a Non- submission or Fail and the subsequent resit attempt will then be capped at a Pass.

A student may apply for ECs against a resit attempt, depending on their circumstances at the time of the resit. However, if the first submission attempt was a Non-submission or Fail with ECs not granted, then the second resit attempt – given after ECs are granted – would be capped at a minimum Pass mark (40%). In this case, the successful application of ECs provides a further resit submission under the same conditions as for the first resit.

If a student's Extenuating Circumstances are on-going (such as through long- term illness) or affect a considerable number of assessments, then the Board of Examiners may decide to put a longer deferral in place - such as extending the period of registration for the level or allowing the student to attend part-time. This may lead to a Suspension of Studies/Interruption of Studies.

Further guidance on Extenuating Circumstances is available in the Assessment policy. Students can also be referred to Learner Services for independent support.

Assessment Marking

All assessment components for all modules are required to be completed to achieve the award. A student who passes the module will be awarded the credit for that module (as determined within the programme specification).

Students who do not submit an assessment component or who submit and do not achieve a Pass mark will be required to undertake a resit.

The minimum aggregate pass mark for all undergraduate awards is 40% at assessment, module, level and qualification point.

Where there are options available within programmes and modules are identified as pre-requisites or co-requisites then module tutors/award leaders should ensure that the student pathway meets these requirements.

Students should be informed that their marks are provisional (and subject to second marking/internal moderation and external moderation) until the Board of Examiners has met to confirm the marks. Students are then notified of outcomes in writing, following the Board of Examiners meeting.

Formative feedback

Formative feedback is that given during the formative stage of assessment. While students are in the process of developing drafts, an opportunity should be given for feedback in order that a student can check that their work-to-date meets the requirements of the brief.

Students should be given a formative feedback opportunity for every assessment, where practical. For written work this should be submitted and feedback given via Turnitin. Using Turnitin for written work will allow the student to see their originality report – highlighting any Unfair Practice issues that may be present.

All formative feedback should be clearly responding to the student's draft submission in terms of how it addresses the brief and how it may be developed further. At this stage, a mark should not be given, as the work is likely to substantially change between this stage and the final submission.

Where required, a one-to-one tutorial opportunity can be made available to talk through the feedback.

Peer-review can be an excellent tool for formative feedback and should be considered, where appropriate.

In order to avoid grade-polishing, sensible limits should be placed on the work seen during the formative stage. Students have their own part to play in drawing attention to the parts or elements of the work on which they would particularly like feedback. A brief guide is shown below:

Component	Suggested formative feedback
Presentation	It may be practical to use peer-review or a short one-to-one tutorial to discuss the presentation, rather than a full presentation rehearsal.
Practical art/design work	Peer-review may be used. For example, a group-critique. One-to-one tutorials may also be used.
Practical performance work	Peer or tutor review may be used. For example, the students or tutor observe and give feedback on an excerpt of a rehearsal, dress-rehearsal or performance. One-to-one tutorials may also be used.
Short essay or written piece	A complete draft may be submitted via Turnitin and feedback given. Alternatively, a plan may be discussed in a one-to-one tutorial.
Extended essay or longer written piece (2,500 words or more)	A plan or outline may be discussed in a one-to-one tutorial. A draft may be submitted to Turnitin but with an agreed limit, such as 500-1,000 words. In this case, the student will have responsibility for selecting the extract that they particularly want feedback on. This will depend on what is practically possible, and should be agreed by teaching teams.
Research Project	It is expected that there will be a number of formative feedback opportunities as the group moves through each section of the project. However, these should be limited and made clear to students in advance.
Dissertation (usually 8,000 words or more)	Supervisors will give a limited number of appointments or hours to each student during the formative stage. There may also be limits on the number of times a particular section/chapter can be discussed in a formative opportunity.

Summative feedback

Summative feedback is that given to a student after the final submission according to the assessment schedule. This feedback will be based on the assessment of the work in terms of whether it has met the learning outcomes, has passed or not, what mark it has therefore been awarded, and will include commentary on other characteristics as detailed in the marking criteria or grading scheme.

Students will be given summative feedback on every assessment. Marking, internal moderation and feedback should be completed within three working weeks (15 working days). As with formative feedback, for written work this should be submitted and feedback given via Turnitin.

As a minimum it is expected that written summative feedback includes:

A mark as a percentage (0-100%);

Comment on whether each learning outcome has been met, and how well;

Comment on the work as-a-whole that enables a student to understand how their mark has been calculated. This will refer closely to the marking criteria or grading scheme;

Development points that, if successfully acted on, will enable a student to gain a better mark at the next submission.

Non-adherence to word counts

A word count attached to a component is used as a guide to how much work needs to be produced, according to the requirements of the module specification. It is not an expectation that the word count in a submission exactly matches the specified word count for the component, but where a student deviates from the word count by +/- 10% then, as a minimum, this should be noted in the summative feedback and, ideally, discussed with the student in a one-to-one tutorial.

Where a student has produced work significantly over the word count this may affect their ability to gain credit for conciseness, editing and proof-reading, construction of argument and/or other relevant qualities that are being assessed according to the rubric or mark scheme. These points should be highlighted in the feedback given.

Where a student has produced work significantly under the word count this may affect their ability to adequately meet the learning outcomes applicable to the assessment, or to gain credit for an appropriate level of detail, knowledge and understanding, analysis and/or other relevant qualities that are being assessed according to the rubric or mark scheme. These points should be highlighted in the feedback given.

If, after marking, doubt arises about the validity of any mark then it should be included in sampling for Internal Moderation.

Certain elements of a student's written work should not be included in the calculation of the total word count, including:

Contents page (where used)

Reference list

Appendices

Abstract, where included in Dissertation or Research Project reports

All other elements of a student's written work are included, such as – but not limited to:

Footnotes

Citations

Tables

There are no penalties that apply where non-adherence to word counts has been identified.

Marking Bands

All assessments are marked as a percentage (0-100%)

% Score	Performance Standard
70+	Excellent Pass
60-69	Very Good Pass
50-59	Good Pass
40-49	Pass
0-39	Fail

Rounding

Rounding may occur after weighted percentages have been calculated. No half marks can be given for an assessed component. Half marks that do arise are rounded by ProMonitor after being calculated according to the weighting of components within modules. Where a final aggregated mark includes half marks, the following shall apply:

Where the result of the assessment calculation creates a mark of 0.5% or greater this will be rounded up to the next full percentage point (e.g. 69.5% is rounded to 70; 59.5% to 60%; and so on). Where the calculation creates a mark below 0.5% this will be rounded down to the next full percentage point (e.g. 69.4% is rounded to 69%; 59.4% to 59%; and so on). For the purposes of rounding up or down, only the first decimal place is used.

Regulations for validated awards of The Open University

<https://www.open.ac.uk/about/validation-partnerships/about-ou-validation/regulations-validated-awards-open-university>)

Where examinations are used, module tutors should be aware that consistent use of half marks can cause 'double rounding'. Assessment components may be rounded up or down and rounding up or down may then occur at the classification level. For example a student can be working at a 2:2 level yet achieve a 2:1 (without any clear exit velocity) and the same can happen with rounding down, where a student may receive a lower classification than their marks suggested to date.

Internal moderation

Arrangements for Internal Moderation (IM) exist to ensure that first marking is fair and consistent with the marking criteria or grading scheme and to ensure comparability of assessment across a cohort. A moderator should be appropriately qualified, with experience of assessing in the subject area and at the level of study and be suitably impartial (i.e. there are no conflicts of interest).

For new members of teaching staff IM can be a key learning experience in the development of an appropriate approach to marking on OU-validated programmes. During their first semester conducting assessment a new member of teaching staff may have all work sampled for IM to support this learning. This may be reviewed and extended if appropriate.

For each moderated piece of work the moderator needs to complete an IM pro- forma, indicating whether, and on what grounds, they agree or disagree with the original mark. Moderators should consider and confirm whether they agree that:

The learning outcomes have been met;

The marking criteria or grading scheme has been applied appropriately;

After taking 2.24.1. and 2.24.2. into consideration, the original mark is correct.

Although not required, the moderator may also comment on any additional development points not highlighted by the original marker.

A sample of work for each assessed component should be selected according to the following:

For small groups with six or fewer Students	For groups of seven or more students
All work should be sampled for internal moderation (including any College staff undertaking the programme)	All Firsts/Distinctions All Fails (39 or lower) A representative sample from the middle range (3rd – 2:1/Pass – Merit) Any College staff undertaking the programme must be included

Where there is a variance of within +/-2pp between the original and the moderator's mark the original mark should stand, except if the moderator's mark moves the original mark across a grade boundary. If the moderator recommends moving the mark across a grade boundary then a rationale for the new mark must be provided. The final mark must be agreed in discussion between the original marker and the moderator.

If a final mark cannot be agreed during discussion between the original marker and moderator then a second moderator may be appointed to review the work and give their recommendation, guided by paragraph 2.24.

If IM of a component highlights significant or widespread discrepancies between the original and the moderated marks, then the sample should be extended to include the remainder of the cohort for moderation of that component.

Only after sampling of the whole cohort for IM, according to 2.24., should amendments be applied to the marks of the whole cohort.

After IM has been completed, any updates to marks should be applied on Turnitin.

Resit opportunities

If a student does not submit or fails a component of a module then they are eligible for a resit opportunity. However,

17.3.1 Resit provision is subject to all the following conditions:

- (a) A student may resit the failed assessment components of a module only once. Where there are extenuating circumstances, the Board of Examiners has discretion to decide whether a further assessment opportunity shall be permitted, unless explicitly prohibited in the rules for the programme, as approved in the validation process and programme specification.
- (b) A student who does not complete the resit by the date specified shall not progress the programme, except in cases where the process for allowing extenuating circumstances has been followed.
- (c) Resits can only take place after the meeting of the Board of Examiners or following agreement by the Chair and the External Examiner of the Board.
- (d) A student who successfully completes any required resits within a module shall be awarded the credit for the module and the result for the individual assessment component capped at the minimum pass mark for the module.
- (e) A student shall not be permitted to be reassessed by resit in any module that has received a pass mark, or in a component that has received a mark of 40% or above.
- (f) The resit will normally be carried out by the same combination of written examination, coursework etc. as in the first attempt.

18 Regulations for validated awards of The Open University

<https://www.open.ac.uk/about/validation-partnerships/about-ou-validation/regulations-validated-awards-open-university>)

Students should always have the opportunity and be encouraged to resit rather than rely on compensation. If they receive a compensated pass this is shown on their transcript and diploma supplement and is included in the calculation of the overall classification.

The minimum aggregate pass marks for all undergraduate awards is 40% at assessment, module, level and qualification point.

Level progression

For a student to be eligible to progress to the next level (if applicable), then 120 credits at the current level must have been achieved (whether through assessment or recognition of prior learning) at the aggregate pass mark of 40%.

Compensation

In some cases level or stage compensation may be applied, allowing a student to progress with an overall module mark below 40% but over 35% (up to a total of 20 credits), if their overall aggregate mark for the level is 40% or greater and provided that all learning outcomes are met.

In-module compensation may also be applied, allowing a student to gain credit for a module with one component with a mark of below 40% but over 35%, where the module has an overall Pass mark (40%) and all learning outcomes are met.

Unless otherwise stated in the approved programme specification, compensation will be applied when the following conditions are met:

No more than 20 credits, or one sixth of the total credits, whichever is greater, can be compensated in any one stage of an undergraduate or postgraduate programme.

Compensation is not permitted for modules within awards of less than 120 credits in total.

It can be demonstrated that the learning outcomes of the qualification level have been satisfied. The process for evaluating cases will be identified in the programme specification.

A minimum mark of no more than 5 percentage points below the module pass mark has been achieved in the module to be compensated.

Taking the module mark to be compensated into account, an aggregate mark of 40% has been achieved for the qualification level of the undergraduate programme.

No compensation shall be permitted for any core project/dissertation module, as defined in the programme specification.

A student who receives a compensated pass in a module shall be awarded the credit for the module. The original component mark(s) (i.e. below the pass mark) shall be retained in the record of marks and used in the calculation of the aggregate mark for the stage or qualification.

(Regulations for validated awards of The Open University)

<https://www.open.ac.uk/about/validation-partnerships/about-ou-validation/regulations-validated-awards-open-university>)

Level failure/Repeat opportunities

If, having exhausted all permitted resit and compensation opportunities, a student is still unable to pass; the Board of Examiners may at its discretion permit one of the following repeat options:

Partial repeat as fully registered student:

The student is not permitted to progress to the next stage of the programme but must repeat the failed modules and/or components in full during the following academic year,

The student has full access to all facilities and support for the modules and/or components being repeated,

The marks that can be achieved for the modules and/or components being repeated will be capped at the module and/or component pass marks,

The student retains the marks for the modules and/or components already passed,

No further resit opportunities are permitted.

Partial repeat for assessment only:

As in paragraph 17.5.1(a) except that access to facilities and support will be limited to certain learning resources for the module(s) and/or component(s) being repeated. Participation will only be allowed for relevant revision sessions and assessments.

Full repeat:

This is only permitted where the student has extenuating circumstances;

The student does not progress to the next stage of the programme but instead repeats all the modules in the current stage during the following academic year,

The student has full access to all facilities and support,

The marks that can be achieved are not capped, and the student is normally entitled to the resit opportunities available. However, a student is not able to carry forward any credit from previous attempts at the stage.

(Regulations for validated awards of The Open University

<https://www.open.ac.uk/about/validation-partnerships/about-ou-validation/regulations-validated-awards-open-university>)

If a student is offered a repeat opportunity then award leaders/Board of Examiners should advise the student to seek further guidance from Student Services before they accept the option to repeat - repeating can have considerable financial implications, particularly if study is funded through Student Finance England.

Progression with trailing assessments

There is provision for a student to progress without having gained the required number of credits. The Open University regulations relating to a student progressing with trailing assessments can be found in section 17.5.3 below:

17.5.3 With the approval of the Board of Examiners students may be eligible to progress to a higher stage of a programme without having completed the requisite 120 points of the lower stage, may exceptionally be allowed to do so provided that each of the following conditions are met:

- (a) A minimum of 80 points at the lower level have been successfully completed including passes in all designated core modules;
- (b) All requirements for academic prerequisites for the higher level modules are met;
- (c) The Examination board have approved progression following a successful application for extenuating circumstances, and results are still pending in the student's profile;

Final awards, classification and exit awards

BA Honours Degree (3 years full-time)

For the award of an Honours Degree, a student will have met the programme learning outcomes, achieved 120 credits at FHEQ Levels 4, 5 and 6 and achieved an aggregate pass mark of at least 40% across all levels.

Classification is based upon the mean mark across Level 6 and Level 5 at a ratio of 2:1 respectively.

Aggregate % Score	Grade
70+	First Class (1st)
60-69	Upper Second Class (2:1)
50-59	Lower Second Class (2:2)
40-49	Third Class (3rd)
0-39	Fail

Like assessment/module marks, rounding up (0.5% or greater to the next full point) or rounding down (0.4% or below) occurs if a half mark arises at the classification point.

As detailed within programme specifications, a student withdrawing after successful completion of Level 4 may request the award of a Certificate of Higher Education, or after Level 5, a Diploma of Higher Education. A student may also be eligible to withdraw before completion of the project/dissertation component of an Honours degree and be eligible for the award of an Ordinary Degree (successful completion of Levels 4 and 5 and 60 credits at Level 6).

Classification is based upon the mean mark across Level 6.

Aggregate % Score	Grade
70+	First Class (1st)
60-69	Upper Second Class (2:1)
50-59	Lower Second Class (2:2)
40-49	Third Class (3rd)
0-39	Fail

Like assessment/module marks, rounding up (0.5% or greater to the next full point) or rounding down (0.4% or below) occurs if a half mark arises at the classification point.

As detailed within programme specifications, a student may be eligible to withdraw before completion of the major project/dissertation component of an Honours degree and be eligible for the award of an Ordinary Degree (60 credits at Level 6).

Recognition of prior learning (RPL)

<https://s3.eu-west-2.amazonaws.com/server-asset-backups/york-college-assets/uploads/files/Assessment-Regulations/RPL-Procedure-HE.pdf>

As detailed within the Student Guide to Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) there are limits on the use of RPL, some of which impact upon classification:

No more than 50% of a programme's credit can be awarded through the RPL process, i.e. 180 credits of a Bachelor's Degree or 120 credits of a Foundation Degree, with the exception of an Honours Degree (Top-up), in which applicants must complete all 120 credits at Level 6.

Modules/levels for which RPL is granted cannot be granted marks or used toward final classification unless an Open University approved articulation/credit transfer agreement is in place with the named institution.

No credit can ever be awarded for the dissertation/major project element of any programme.

Modules/levels that are granted RPL should be designated a 'Pass' on the transcript of results. No marks can be awarded for a module that RPL has been granted for unless the applicant is transferring programmes internally and some modules are core and studied across all programmes. The calculation of the final classification will not include modules for which RPL has been granted.

For further information about the use of RPL within assessment please refer to the Student Guide.

Aegrotat and posthumous awards

Under exceptional circumstances, an Aegrotat award may be made by the Board of Examiners. This is only if a student is unable to complete their studies, such as through serious and permanent illness or other circumstances.

If an Aegrotat award is made, the Board must be confident that if the circumstances had not arisen, the student would have passed the award.

The Board of Examiners can also apply to the Open University's Module Results Approval and Qualifications Classification Panel (MRAQCP) to request an award for a student who passes away before study is completed.

For further information on Aegrotat and Posthumous awards please see 21.0 in the Regulations for validated awards of The Open University.

Recording and Publishing assessment decisions General Information

All decisions on final awards are provisional until ratified by The Open University's Module Results Approval and Qualifications Classification Panel (MRAQCP). Following the Board of Examiners meeting the documentation is submitted to The Open University within 2 working days. The expected timescale for confirmation of ratification by MRAQCP is within 7 working days of receipt of the documentation.

Recording assessment decisions

After marking and internal moderation (IM) have been completed, results for individual components are recorded in the ProMonitor system. Students may see these marks via ProPortal and should be advised that all marks are provisional at this stage.

Prior to the Board of Examiners Meeting a sample of assessed work is reviewed by the external examiner (EE). This sample should be agreed between the EE and programme leader and should include all assessed work by any College staff undertaking the programme. The regulations relating to EEs can be found in section F2 of the Handbook for Validated Awards.

Outcomes other than numerical marks will be added in lieu of marks to the mark sheet presented at the Board of Examiners meeting, using the codes shown in the table below. These outcomes will be confirmed to students in an outcome letter following the Board of Examiners meeting.

Description of outcome	Code used on ProMonitor	Code on outcome letter
Non-submission of component	NS	NS Resit
Extenuating circumstances applied	EC	EC Resit
Unfair Practice – Penalty 1 applied	UP1	UP Penalty 1
Unfair Practice – Penalty 2 applied	UP2	UP Penalty 2
Unfair Practice – Penalty 3 applied	UP3	UP Penalty 3
Suspension of Studies/Interruption of Studies	INT	Interruption of Studies
Exempt from undertaking the component due to RPL	EX	Exempt

Outcomes with final marks may result in other outcomes, including Fail (for marks below 40%) or Compensation (according to the regulations for Compensation – see section 5.). These outcomes will be confirmed and minuted at the Board of Examiners meeting and confirmed to students in their outcome letter following the meeting, using the following codes:

Description of outcome	Code on outcome letter
First failure to gain a Pass mark	Fail Resit
Second failure to gain a Pass mark	Fail Retake
Compensation has been applied	Comp

Publishing assessment decisions

Following the completion of all internal and external moderation and having been reported and agreed at the Board of Examiners meeting, marks are final and may be confirmed to students.

Students can view their confirmed marks using ProPortal – the student- facing part of the ProMonitor system. During the assessment process ProMonitor will be updated to reflect agreed marks.

Following each Board of Examiners meeting a letter will be sent to every student:

To confirm that – where work has been completed and a Pass gained, this has been agreed at the Board of Examiners meeting, and that the marks shown on ProPortal are now final;

To confirm that – where work has been completed and not gained a Pass, work has not been completed, or Extenuating Circumstances, Unfair Practice or Suspension of Studies/Interruption of Studies applies –the outcome has been reported and agreed at the Board of Examiners meeting and is now final;

To give – in the case of the various outcomes listed in 10.8.2 – a brief explanation of the applicable outcome(s) and the action(s) required;

To confirm that should a student wish to appeal an assessment decision they should do so within 10 working days of receipt of the letter.

After ratification of final award decisions from MRAQCP has been given, certificates are sent from the Open University. An Open University-approved diploma supplement is produced by the University Centre to accompany the certificate. The diploma supplement is signed by the Head of Higher Education and bears the College stamp. The diploma supplement includes the following information:

15 Academic integrity refer to policy

Avoiding Plagiarism

Plagiarism is defined in the Academic Misconduct Procedure (HE) as “the action of attempting to pass off another’s original work as the student’s own original work”. You might think that taking someone else’s work or ideas by accident is not classed as plagiarism, but it is viewed as unfair practice and will be included as an offence. You have the responsibility for your own research, so you are also in control of the way that you include that research in your own writing. The College will give you information and support to help you to avoid plagiarism, so if your written work does come back with a high percentage on Turnitin then it is likely that you will be the subject of a suspected unfair practice case.

The main way that you can avoid any confusion about what you have and have not written is to reference correctly all source material that you are using

Academic Misconduct

As a student you are expected to know how to go about your studies in an appropriate way. Your academic conduct is as important as your personal conduct. Cases of academic misconduct– are taken seriously by the College.

You are responsible for most of your own learning outside of the classroom, so you need to know how to make the best use of your time. You don’t want to spend a lot of time working in a way if it’s not going to get you the results you need. When you submit a piece of work for assessment you should know what’s acceptable and what’s not acceptable. Your tutor will give you clear instructions about submissions: how they should be presented and how you should go about submitting them.

The level of penalty you can expect depends on how serious the offence is. At the lowest level you will be asked to resubmit the work; at the highest level you may be withdrawn from your course without a qualification.

However, there are certain basic academic standards that you need to be aware of, and the most important of these is plagiarism. The penalties for academic misconduct can be severe, so it is worth taking the time to understand the information on this page.

A copy of the Academic Misconduct Procedure (HE) is available on see York College Blackboard HE Essentials.

Acceptable forms of academic referencing and citation

When writing for assessment, you need to do everything you can to make sure that your tutor knows what parts of the writing aren’t yours. You are expected to do research in preparation for writing, and your tutor needs to be able to see this research to give you marks for it. The main way to successfully show your research and to clearly set out the difference between what you have and have not written is to use referencing.

When you’re in conversation, you might refer to something that someone else said as evidence to underpin your own position: “I know this won’t happen because she said she wouldn’t let it happen”. Obviously, you would only trust someone’s word when they are in a position of authority. Without any trust you wouldn’t use their word as evidence.

When you’re writing, the principle is the same. You need to show where you have used someone else’s writing as evidence for your own position. There needs to be trust that the evidence you are using is valid. Using someone else’s writing word-for-word needs to be indicated with “quote marks”. You don’t need quote marks if you’re simply referring to an idea or perspective that another writer has put forward – you can summarise or paraphrase this in your own words. However, in both of these cases, you do need to provide a citation, which is made up of two or three key bits of information that show your tutor where the information has come from.

Appeals and complaints against an assessment decision

<https://s3.eu-west-2.amazonaws.com/server-asset-backups/york-college-assets/uploads/files/General-Regulations/Appeal-procedures- HEv2.pdf>

You can appeal against an assessment decision if you believe and have evidence that any of the following apply:

a) There were relevant exceptional circumstances (for example, illness), and you have a good reason for failing to notify the examiners of these sooner. Normally you must inform your Progress tutor by the assessment deadline (or up to five days after the deadline in the case of examinations), by using the exceptional circumstances procedure. A 'good reason' means that circumstances beyond your control prevented you from disclosing the relevant circumstances at the appropriate time. Personal embarrassment or unwillingness to disclose personal circumstances are not considered 'good reason' for the purposes of an appeal.

b) You did notify the examiners earlier about exceptional circumstances or some other disruption of the assessment process, but there is clear evidence that the exceptional circumstances procedure was not correctly followed. The fact that you disagree with the way in which your exceptional circumstances were considered is not in itself grounds for appeal.

c) A procedural irregularity has occurred; the assessment was conducted unfairly or improperly; the assessment was biased.

You must complete a FQ10 form, more information can be found in the HE Assessment Appeals Policy and Procedure see York College Blackboard HE Essentials

16 Other institutional policies and regulations

<https://www.yorkcollege.ac.uk/university-centre/policies-and-procedures>

Some of the information below may be given in the form of general brief statements (ideally with links included) that refer students to separate generic institutional policy document.

Disability statement

The College is committed to equality for all and widening participation for disabled students and ensuring that all students have access to a high quality learning experience.

To help us achieve this please make sure that you let us know what you need so we can make reasonable adjustments to help you succeed.

Safeguarding

“The safeguarding of young people and vulnerable adults is fully embraced by all York College staff and underpins the College's values”

Staying Safe at York College

We want all students at York College to feel safe and not to feel threatened by their environment or other people in it. To keep you free from harm, we carry out all that is necessary within these key areas:

Prevent at York College

An essential part of York College's safeguarding duty includes protecting vulnerable people from the risk of radicalisation and extremism. This is called the 'Prevent Duty'; this is a government initiative aimed at stopping people becoming involved with (radicalised) or support violent extreme behaviour (extremism).

Equal opportunities statement

York College is committed to equality of opportunity. The aim is to create an environment in which people treat each other with mutual respect, regardless of age, disability, family responsibility, marital status, race, colour, ethnicity, nationality, religion or belief, gender, gender identity, transgender, sexual orientation, trade union activity or unrelated criminal convictions.

Data protection

The College needs to keep certain information about its employees, students and other users to allow it to monitor performance, achievements, and health and safety, for example. It is also necessary to process information so that staff can be recruited and paid, courses organised and legal obligations to funding bodies and government complied with. To comply with the law, information must be collected and used fairly, stored safely and not disclosed to any other person unlawfully. To do this, the College must comply with the Data Protection Principles which are set out in the General Data Protection Regulations [GDPR].

Health and safety issues

York College, as a requirement of the Health and Safety at Work etc Act 1974 must produce a Health and Safety Policy. The policy document outlines the College's responsibilities to staff, students and visitors to our buildings and gives our arrangements for health and safety.

York College sees the promotion of health and safety as a team effort, it is intended that the policy (linked below), and the teamwork it promotes should enable the College Community to work in partnership to achieve a safe working environment where hazards are controlled, risks to the health and safety of staff and others are reduced to a minimum and the safeguarding of students is maintained at all times.

17 Student participation and evaluation

As a student you are not a passive consumer of learning, but an active participant, so the College wants you to engage with it about all aspects of your experience and is committed to listening to you and your ideas. Your tutor will usually be your first point of call when you want to feed something back (what is working and what is not!), but there are other ways you can share your thoughts, outlined below.

How Can You Engage?

There are many opportunities for you to share your perspective, ideas and knowledge as a student at the College. More details of how you can get involved with feedback and engagement can be found on Blackboard.

Student representation on Committees

The College is committed to ensuring that the views of students are heard and responded to. This is partly achieved through Programme-level representatives who are recruited across all Programmes. More information about this and the link with the HE student forum will be given in the cross college induction. Student reps will be contacted and meet throughout the year to give feedback on their course and make suggestions as to how we can make improvements to our student experience.

Higher Education Surveys

Throughout the academic year there will be an opportunity to feedback through online surveys. Feedback from HE students is collated and where actions have been met you will find this information in the University Centre and on HE Essentials via "You Said We Did"

Role of Development and Enhancement Meetings

Each Programme will set up a development and enhancement meeting to ensure that the academic experience of students on the Programme is as good as it can be. These meetings take place twice per academic year, one per semester. There will also be two student focus groups to allow students to contribute to Programme monitoring, review and development.

The meeting is important as your feedback will be passed on to relevant managers for their attention, and your tutor will take on board your comments and combine them with feedback from module evaluations, external examiner reports, the Student Submission and other sources to help them to evaluate and review the course and how it might be run differently.

At the end of the year your tutor completes an Evaluation & Review; your feedback plays an important role in this process. Each Evaluation & Review is shared with management and therefore has an impact on the way that the College evaluates its annual performance.

Module Evaluation

We value your feedback. Each Programme should undertake module evaluations to give you the opportunity to tell us what you think about module delivery, assessments, and the learning resources available to you. We are interested in hearing about areas that have exceeded your expectations as well as those that have not met your needs or requirements. There is also a free text comments section where you can submit additional remarks and suggestions.

Module evaluations are confidential and completed anonymously. This feedback is used at Programme level so that the student experience can be continuously improved. By undertaking module evaluations, you can help us to refresh and revise our module delivery to enhance the learning experience and continue to improve upon our academic provision.

College Surveys

We ask students to complete surveys at different stages of their programme to provide us with feedback on how things are going. Again, these results are used by staff on your Programme to make improvements and to share good practice. Your feedback matters – so take these opportunities to get involved.

National Student Survey

If you are entering into your final year you will also be invited to participate in the National Student Survey. This is a survey for all final year students in all universities in England and the results are made public to help prospective students make choices about where and what to study.

What Happens with My Feedback?

We take your comments very seriously and you can find out what actions have been taken in response to your feedback through your Programme representative or your tutors.
