

CELL DIFFUSION

G1575-08

OVERVIEW

PROS

Use of timber offcuts elevated with texture

CONS

Metallised resin decorative detail could be achieved using another technique

KEY PROCESSES

- General assembly by hand
- CNC milling of wood
- Laser etching

CORE MATERIALS

- Solid timber offcuts
- MR (moisture resistant) substrate

ADHESIVE

- Assembly: Solvent-based
- Clear silicon sealant
- Assembly: Water-based

CLADDING

- Bio-resin bubble

FINISH

- Lacquer (water based?)
- Nordic white Rubio oil
- Metallised resin
- Etched / burnt or remove the pattern

SAMPLE COMPONENTS

POTENTIAL ALTERNATIVES

KEY

- Sustainable
- Fair
- Could be improved

In line with of our company values we strive to be transparent with the materials and processes we use in our bespoke manufacturing with you, our clients.

If you see something above you want to question, we encourage you to ask us for more detail and we can advise on alternatives that might suit your needs better.

For all enquiries, or to discuss the commissioning process, please contact:

enquiries@silverliningfurniture.com
+44 (0) 1948 822 150

“With all of our one-off creations, they are designed and made to be passed on through the generations”

Mark Boddington